

Carter To Meet With Dem Leaders On Working Accord

PLAINS, Ga. (AP) — Democratic congressional leaders whom Jimmy Carter must deal with to get his legislative program enacted are to meet with the president-elect to discuss the best ways for Carter to work with the House and Senate.

The meeting today is part of Carter's stepped-up involvement in the transition from the Ford administration to his own. The session was to focus on the nation's domestic problems, including unemployment and the economy, and "what the administration should be doing for the next four years," a Carter aide said.

Vice President-elect Walter F. Mondale, who arrived Tuesday night in Plains, said a "respectful, cooperative relationship" was needed between Carter and Congress.

Carter's press office and the White House announced jointly on Tuesday that the president-elect would meet Saturday with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger in Plains and that Carter and President Ford would meet Monday or Tuesday when Carter goes to Washington.

Kissinger, addressing delegates attending the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Assembly in Williamsburg, Va., said he would support American foreign policy under the new president and pledged "to answer fully his questions and to cooperate to the fullest extent to bring about a smooth transition."

Those meeting at the farm of Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., in Lovejoy, south of Atlanta, included Rep. Thomas P. O'Neill, D-Mass., expected to be the next House Speaker; Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, who is retiring; and the current or future chairmen of eight House and Senate committees.

Also there were such influential Washington legislators as Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey D-Minn.; Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine; Rep. Al Ullman, D-Ore.; and Rep. Brock Adams, D-Wash. These men come from political backgrounds far removed from Carter's few years of experience as a Georgia state senator and governor.

Russians Increase Aid To Guerrillas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia is increasing military aid to Rhodesian guerrillas even while white and black African leaders in Geneva are trying to negotiate a peaceful solution, according to U.S. intelligence reports.

Intelligence sources say a Russian ship unloaded 18 heavily-gunned armored vehicles and ammunition in Tanzania in recent days. Tanzania has served as a relay point for Soviet arms bound for the black Rhodesian guerrillas, the sources say.

This report followed another intelligence dispatch last week saying that a Tanzanian ship had delivered Russian 122mm multiple rocket launchers and armored vehicles to Mozambique, a staging area for guerrilla attacks into white-ruled Rhodesia.

U.S. intelligence sources said they have been informed that about 5,000 Rhodesian guerrillas would be moved gradually from Mozambique to camps in Tanzania for training.

Meanwhile, the Geneva talks were reported to have hit a snag Tuesday as four black nationalist factions split over whether to put aside the unsettled issue of setting a deadline for black majority rule in the rebel British colony.

Russian military advisers have been reported in Mozambique at least since last spring and within the past few weeks U.S. intelligence reports have told of Mozambique military officers leaving for long-term training in Russia.

Soviet support for the guerrillas drew the attention of U.S. intelligence officials after the successful effort by pro-Marxist forces to gain control of Angola early this year.

Intelligence specialists say between 10,000 and 12,000 Cuban troops and at least 2,500 Cuban civilians still are in Angola six months after Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro promised to reduce his forces there.

Repeated press reports from Havana during the summer described the return of Cuban troops from Africa, but U.S. officials have said Cuban combat veterans were replaced by others flown to Angola.

In recent weeks, U.S. intelligence sources say, Cuban troops have been fighting alongside elements of Angola's 35,000-man army in an effort to destroy some 350 anti-Marxist guerrillas holding out in southern Angola.

Gilmore Overdose To Delay Execution

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Gary Gilmore, the killer who wants to die, may have prolonged his life instead by taking sleeping pills in an apparent lovers' suicide pact that left him and his girl friend hospitalized.

Gilmore, 35, who has fought efforts to delay his execution by a firing squad, remained in what officials called "very serious" condition today with a drug overdose complicated by pneumonia.

He was hospitalized Tuesday after taking sleeping pills and writing a suicide note despite what officials called a prison "suicide watch" to guard against such an attempt.

Nicole Barrett, his girl friend, was in critical condition in a coma at a hospital in Provo, 40 miles away from the prison here.

Mrs. Barrett, 20, was found in her apartment on Tuesday morning, with two notes and two empty vials of sleeping pills nearby.

Gilmore's condition forced the Utah Board of Pardons to drop plans to consider his case at its regular hearing today. He was to have pleaded in person for the three-man board to uphold his execution.

Deputy Warden Leon Hatch said the note in Gilmore's Utah State Prison cell said, "I leave all of my personal belongings to my mother."

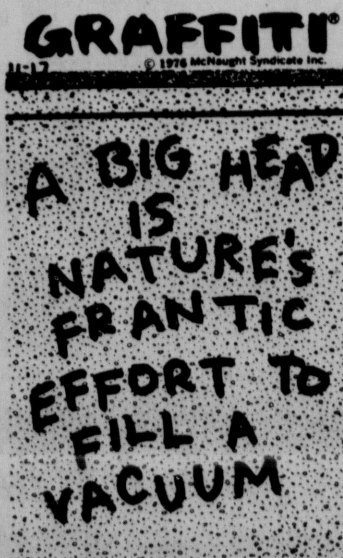

Asst. Utah County Atty. Brent Bullock refused to discuss the contents of the two notes found near Mrs. Barrett, except to say that they were "like suicide notes."

Con Man Preys On New Mothers

HAMMOND, Ind. (AP) — Authorities believe a young mother here is the 10th victim of a man, who using the telephone, preys on new mothers.

All 10 have been persuaded to do something that results in loss of hair. The latest victim told police a man identifying himself as "Dr. Carmichael," told her husband had contracted parasites which could penetrate her brain and that of her new baby unless some action were taken.

The man directed her to rub her scalp with a mixture of alcohol and petroleum jelly and then hold her head over a hot stove while pouring more alcohol on her hair.

Agency Funds Misspent

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A safety division of the Ohio Industrial Commission has misused funds that were supposed to be spent in the investigation of industrial accidents, according to Gov. James A. Rhodes' office.

"A review of expense vouchers disclosed many unauthorized or questionable expense items which could be classified as abuses," a report prepared by Rhodes' fiscal officer said.

Essentially, the 59-page document deals with instances where safety and hygiene money was used for other Industrial Commission activities, some of them questionable. The commission has been a focal point of controversy regarding its role as an arbiter of workmen's compensation claims.

"Where there are illegal expenditures we'll ask for recovery of the funds," Rhodes said Tuesday. "We want to clean up the state."

The governor said Industrial Commission Chairman William Johnston would ask Atty. Gen. William J. Brown to institute such action and prosecute if appropriate.

The internal audit and review, undertaken by Rex E. Haecker, Rhodes' administrative assistant for fiscal affairs, questions travel expenses, banquets and entertainment expenses during the period from Jan. 1, 1972 to March 31, 1976.

Haecker said nearly $10,000 was spent by safety and hygiene employees and industrial commissioners for trips that "cannot be recognized or construed as an authorized expenditure of Safety and Hygiene funds."

This included $4,130 for the travels of former commissioner Gregory J. Stebbins who was ousted from office by the state Senate last month after being charged by Rhodes with corruption.

Claim School For Arsonists Inside Ohio

CINCINNATI (AP) — A state arson investigator acknowledged Tuesday that a training school for arsonists has been established in Ohio.

Eugene Jewell, who heads a state unit investigating cases of arson, said he would not identify the location of the school. But Jewell characterized the school, where would-be arsonists can learn the trade, as "the world's greatest fly by night outfit."

"Pay torches (professional arsonists) are the same as other hit men," Jewell said. "They move around. Whoever wants a job done brings in someone."

He indicated the training school may serve a network of arsonists nationwide. He said, for example, a professional arsonist trained in Ohio could be sent to set a fire in Miami.

Jewell said he believes Ohio was chosen as the site for the school because of its central geographical location. He discussed the situation during a convention in Cincinnati of the National Fire Protection Association.

A staff member of that organization, Ronald K. Melott of Boston, said prospective arsonists hear about the "torch school" by word of mouth. He said although authorities are aware of the operation, they so far have been unsuccessful in cracking down on it.

"It's hard to get concrete evidence to take into court," Melott said. "They (police agencies) can take them into court on small harassment charges, but in the end that hurts their investigation."

Union Plans Police Drive

CLEVELAND (AP) — Teamsters leader Jackie Presser says the union has earmarked more than $1 million for a campaign to organize policemen and other city workers throughout Ohio if the state legislature enacts a public employees collective bargaining bill next year.

Presser, recording secretary of the Ohio Conference of Teamsters, said Tuesday the union already has held preliminary discussions with police organizations in several cities.

There are about half a million government workers in Ohio, and 50 per cent of them are reported to be nonunion. Municipal policemen throughout the state total about 13,000.

The American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME) represents 33,000 workers in Ohio. Thomas Morgan, legislative director for that union, said the AFSCME will "match the Teamsters dollar for dollar" in organizing efforts. Morgan said the AFSCME has met the Teamsters' challenge "around the country in the last eight to 10 years and have won."

Stebbins on July 11, 1974 was issued without a voucher to document the purpose of payment, the Haecker report said.

The audit found that $174,618 was spent on banquets and connected expenses such as lodging and travel for guests, and honorariums.

"It has been held repeatedly that banquets and-or dinners are unnecessary for the proper operation of state government," the report said.

In 1975 and 1976, 38 employees were paid gross earnings of more than $201,000 from the safety and hygiene payroll while working on other duties for the Industrial Commission, according to Haecker. The charging of these payroll costs "cannot be approved as being within the statutory objectives or purposes" of the safety fund, he said.

The key problem cited by the report was the failure of the Industrial Commission to establish a safety fund, completely separate from the State Insurance Fund, which is used for workmen's compensation claims. Instead it was maintained as an allocation from the larger fund, based on 3/4 of 1 per cent of employer's contributions.

An excessive surplus of $8.5 million developed in the safety fund as of last March 31, Haecker said, that "created a condition whereby highly questionable expenditures could be made..."

"The percentage of allocations for Safety and Hygiene purposes should be reduced to be in line with yearly requirements," he said.

Johnston said he was in the process of setting up a separate account for the safety fund.

were part of 50 officers across the state who completed the training, which is a state coordinated, multiphased program of crime prevention with special emphasis on citizen involvement in fighting crime. Courses included crime data analysis, security survey, rural and urban programming, security hardware utilization, and community motivation.

City Council Creates Olde Circle Commission

Circleville City Council Tuesday approved a resolution establishing the "Olde Courthouse Circle Commission."

The "Olde Courthouse Circle Commission" is the brainchild of the Area Development Committee of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce. Purpose of the commission is to encourage restoration of historic and distinguished buildings in the downtown area of the city.

The resolution sets guidelines for the membership of the commission. Two members are to be from City Council, a third member shall be the mayor or his delegate, three members shall be selected by the chamber of commerce and three members at large selected by the appointed members.

The commission may give advice, suggestions and comment upon construction, reconstruction, rebuilding, improving and remodeling of the exteriors of all buildings and residences in the area bounded by the railroad to the west; Hargus Creek on the north, Washington Street on the east and Union Street on the south.

However, the commission may in no way restrict, limit or otherwise affect the rights of any individual property owner. Cooperation with the commission is strictly on a voluntary basis.

A total of six "housekeeping" ordinances transferring funds to meet current expenses were approved. They were:

Transfer of $2,000 from the unappropriated money of the capital improvement fund to park improvement account, the sum of $1,845 and to police department equipment account the sum of $155.

Transfer of $5,313 from the unappropriated money of the general fund to parking meters incidentals and supplies account the sum of $165; to police department gasoline and oil account the sum of $1,500; to police department incidentals and supplies account the sum of $400; to police department sustenance of prisoners account the sum of $200; to telephone, fuel, power and water account the sum of $2,500; to insurance account the sum of $548.

Transfer of a total of $1,812.12 among various accounts of the service department.

Transfer of $250 from the federal revenue sharing trust fund to the city solicitor's fund.

Transfer of $1,300 from the federal revenue sharing trust fund to the fire department equipment account.

Transfer of $780 from the federal revenue sharing trust fund to the emergency medical team expense account to pay instructor.

An ordinance was also passed authorizing the safety director to advertise for bids for gas and oil for 1977.

David Goldschmidt, chairman of council's finance committee, announced at Tuesday's meeting that his committee will meet Monday to work on the budget for 1977.

Councilman Dixie Watters noted he has received several complaints about the traffic control gates being down at the South Court Street railroad crossing excessively when no train appeared to be coming.

May Frank Barnhill announced he has requested information concerning the flood plain study so legislation can be enacted making owners of property within the flood plain eligible for insurance. He also reported that this is the last week of the regularly scheduled leaf pickup. The mayor also announced he has requested all department heads to complete an inventory of equipment before the end of the year.

Fire Chief Mike Brown informed council that traffic backing up on West Main west of the railroad crossing when there is a train is creating a potential problem for emergency vehicles at Fire House No. 2.

He asked that an area be designated as an emergency entrance so that traffic would not block the emergency vehicles. Councilman Watters suggested the safety director take

Guerrillas Invade Hotel

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Jordanian shock troops ended a four-hour siege of the Jordan Intercontinental hotel in Amman today with a gun battle that killed three terrorists, a Jordanian spokesman said. A fourth gunman was reported captured.

The broadcast said the terrorists ran into the hotel lobby at 9:50 a.m. firing automatic weapons "to seize the hotel and hold guests hostage."

Special troops of the Jordanian armed forces surrounded the hotel, entered it and recaptured the lobby floor and the first three floors above it.

"The gunmen fled to the upper floors after a brief shootout with the troops," the broadcast said.

The broadcast did not report the nationality of the gunmen. Diplomats at the U.S. Embassy across the street from the hotel said there were rumors that they were Palestinians, Iranians or Iraqis.

The commander of the Jordanian armed forces took personal command of the troops at the hotel, Radio Jordan said.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market headed lower today, set back by the collapse of a broad advance late in Tuesday's session.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks lost nearly 2 points in the early going, and declines took a 5-4 lead over advances among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

The market began stumbling Tuesday after it was hit with the one-two punch of news affecting two major blue chips— American Telephone and Du Pont.

A judge gave the Justice Department the go-ahead to pursue an antitrust case against AT&T. And Du Pont estimated substantially lower fourth quarter earnings.

Telephone shares traded today at 60½, after a 1½-point drop Tuesday. Du Pont was down ½ at 125 after losing ¾ in Tuesday's trading.

With those two stocks weighing it down, the Dow gave up an early 8-point gain Tuesday to finish with a .08 loss at 935.34.

But gainers held on to outpace losers by about an 8-5 margin on the NYSE, and the exchange's composite index added .10 to 53.52.

Big Board volume reached 21.02 million shares.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was down .16 at 98.23.

Harden Teaches Group About Photography

Ned Harden spoke to a group of Rotary members and guests at a beginning lesson in photography Tuesday evening.

The fundamental parts of the camera were discussed, as well as types of film and camera settings. Harden then told the group about the most common mistakes and interesting hints about photo composition.

Camera movement and background are listed as the mistakes commonly made with cameras. Harden said the subject and background should be checked three times before the scene is shot. This way, telephone poles coming out of the subjects head or other unusual items will be noticed before the picture is taken.

Other frequent errors listed by Harden are a dirty lens, overexposure or a dead or weak battery. Harden suggests that a battery be changed yearly, or before going on a trip.

Composition was described as "the pleasing arrangement of a scene or subject within a format." Harden said this causes problems immediately, because what might be pleasing to him, may not appeal to someone else. Although there are no set rules for composition, Harden said the picture should tell a story and still be simple.

He noted that a flash cube on an instamatic camera is only effective up to 12 feet indoors. "Flash bulb producers love the guy who takes a picture of a football game with a flash, because all he will get is the back of the guy's head in front of him," Harden added.

To eliminate red eyes, which is most common with blond haired, blue eyed subjects, elevate the flash above the camera or to the side. He said good pictures require steady camera, sharp focus, good composition, correct exposure and careful editing. Harden told the group to be critical of the photos they take.

To point out mistakes and corrective methods, Harden showed films of his own photographs. He gave examples of different camera angles that improve a subject and background. He also showed composition points from some of his enlarged prints.

The beginners session on photography was held at the home of Bob Porter, 615 Ridgewood Drive. Those present were Dale DeLong, Porter, Bob Cole, Steve Stevenson, Greg Trecker, Michele Morrison, Marj Porter, Cynthia Summers, Linda Hill and Barb Tootle.

The next session will be at the beginning of January, giving the group time to complete the assignment of photographing a barn, using techniques described in the session.

Southern Expressions To Invade Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Will it be socially correct in the new White House to tell the president you consider him "wild as a peach orchard boar?"

Not hardly. In fact, that type of running off at the mouth could get you branded as a fellow who's about three pickles shy of a barrel, or somewhat less than prudent.

"Wild as a peach orchard boar" is an old Southern expression for a man intent on having his way with the ladies. It is definitely not the type of subject to bring up in polite company, according to a new book called "You All Spoken Here."

The book was written by Roy Wilder, a sometime newspaperman and ad writer from Raleigh, N.C. Wilder thinks there could be quite a market for a glossary that defines what Jimmy Carter and his fellow Georgians mean when they get to "carryin' on" in their mother tongue.

Washington hostesses, for example, have been reportedly nervous that they won't fit into the Carter family's White House social circle.

They'll know what it means if one of Carter's Southern friends refers to him as "the big dog in the meathouse." That's been a Georgia term for top banana ever since baseball great Ty Cobb used it to describe a top player back at the turn of the century.

Carter became the top dog in the meathouse by beating President Ford, even though he didn't exactly "blow his doors off." Blowing someone's doors off is what the driver of a fast stock car does to the driver of a slow one when he passes him. It's synonymous with trouncing.

Others recall his promise never to lie. If he fails to keep that promise, they'll be able to say, "His mouth ain't no prayer book."

But if they're not judged by Carter to be "born tired," "common," or "not worth the shot it would take to send them to hell," — all terms signifying less than high esteem — they might find themselves working in the Carter administration.

Such good fortune would enable them to start "living in high cotton," or even "owning two cars and a boat," the ultimate goal on the good old boy's ladder of success.

They might even want to throw a "chitlin' strut" for their friends. That's a social gathering where folks get together to drink liquor and eat chitlins, or hog intestines.

They'll employ the all-purpose Southern modifier, "right." As in, "We might could get that report finished today, but we've got right much work to do first."

Such fluency in the language might could help avert a pink slip from the incoming Carterites, which would cause those still employed to say of the departed, "He got flatted."

Fatal Fire Cause Eyed

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The residential blaze that claimed the lives of three children here Tuesday apparently stemmed from play with matches, Deputy Fire Chief James Harris said today.

Harris said the children's father, Charles Logan, told officials that the eldest of the victims, stepson 4-year-old Terry Love, and a brother who was in school Tuesday had been reprimanded previously for playing with matches.

Logan said there was a tightly capped lawnmower containing "a few tablespoons" of gasoline on the back porch, Harris said. He said investigation after the fire showed the fuel tank cap had been put on "in a childlike manner."

Harris said the door between the porch and the kitchen was open and that the fire, apparently bottled up in the area, exploded and raced through the home. The other twins, 11-month-old twins Charles and Joshua Logan, were in cribs adjacent to the kitchen and porch, Harris said.

Logan, who is unemployed, was quoted by police as saying his wife Beverly had gone to a relative's home to try to stop Ohio Edison from cutting off electricity to the home. Logan himself also was away, police said.

Chief of Police Robert Temple noted that he is aware of the problem at the fire house. He said he would contact the railroad personnel concerning the gates at the South Court crossing.

The chief announced that Bob Gaylord has completed the Ohio State Highway Patrol Academy training for peace officers and that Howard Fletcher is scheduled to take the training in January. The chief reported that Sgt. Larry Pontious has completed a seminar on crime prevention.

The chief of police told council that he had been contacted by an attorney representing the owners of Jack's Tavern asking the city to drop charges against the tavern because the area has been voted dry. He said the attorney also asked him to approve the transfer of the liquor license to another section of the city. He said he denied both requests.

Media Suit Filed By Sheppard Heirs

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Five relatives of the late Dr. Sam Sheppard are suing NBC, Metromedia and Universal City Studios for $10 million over a telecast about his murder case.

None of the defendants could be reached for comment immediately. The suit, filed in Superior Court here Tuesday, claims that "Guilty or Innocent: The Sam Sheppard Murder Case" humiliated Sheppard's son, Sam, his brothers, Stephen and Richard, and his brothers' wives.

Dr. Sheppard, a prominent Bay Village, Ohio, osteopath, was convicted in 1954 of murdering his wife, Marilyn. After several appeals, the conviction was overturned on grounds of pretrial publicity. He was acquitted at a second trial and died in 1970.

Operating costs through Oct. 1 were $21,697.51. The department transferred $109,767.59 to the general fund and a similar amount to the capital improvement fund earlier in the year, and after Oct. 31 transferred an additional $36,320.14 to each fund.

The city's financial report completed by Marvene L. Turner showed a deficit of $12,410.05 in the general fund on Oct. 31, a deficit of $8,907.43 in the police and firemen's pension fund.

Following the regular council session, members met with planning and zoning commission to discuss the proposed development of the Replgle land along Nicholas Drive. The proposal calls for Clark Drive to be extended from Nicholas Drive to Linden Lane. The city will construct the street and assess the developer for 100 per cent of the cost of construction. The area will include an exclusive subdivision called Sylvan Village which will have private streets, sewage and water systems. The sewage and water will be connected to the city systems.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market headed lower today, set back by the collapse of a broad advance late in Tuesday's session.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks lost nearly 2 points in the early going, and declines took a 5-4 lead over advances among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

The market began stumbling Tuesday after it was hit with the one-two punch of news affecting two major blue chips—American Telephone and Du Pont.

A judge gave the Justice Department the go-ahead to pursue an antitrust case against AT&T. And Du Pont estimated substantially lower fourth quarter earnings.

Telephone shares traded today at 60½, after a 1½-point drop Tuesday. Du Pont was down ½ at 125 after losing ¾ in Tuesday's trading.

With those two stocks weighing it down, the Dow gave up an early 8-point gain Tuesday to finish with a .08 loss at 935.34.

But gainers held on to outpace losers by about an 8-5 margin on the NYSE, and the exchange's composite index added .10 to 53.52.

Big Board volume reached 21.02 million shares.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was down .16 at 98.23.

TRI-GRA-Y OVERNIGHT PARTY

You can still sign up for the Tri-Gra-Y overnight party, according to Mrs. Jill Weldon, Tri-Gra-Y Advisor. Scheduled for Friday, Nov. 19, the girls overnight activities start at 8 p.m. with registration. At 8:30 p.m., a bus trip to the Chillicothe YMCA with swimming from 9 to 10 p.m. and a return trip to the Circleville YMCA at 11 p.m. from 11 on the girls will participate in games, sport tournaments, movies and a late snack. Breakfast will be on Saturday morning. The program will be chaperoned by Mrs. Weldon, Mrs. Joan Eller and the Y program staff.

Membership is still open in both Gra-Y and Tri-Gra-Y. This YMCA Youth Club program is for boys and girls in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades of Washington, Pickaway, Ashville, Corwin, South Court, High, Mound, Nicholas and Atwater schools. Meetings are held bi-monthly in the schools immediately after school and athletic activities are scheduled at the YMCA on Saturday mornings for the girls and Saturday afternoon for the boys.

The meetings, athletic events and special activities are under the direction of two Circleville Bible College students, Bill Benner and Bob Wykoff. A yearly Gra-Y or Tri-Gra-Y membership fee is charged for non-YMCA family or youth members. Any youth unable to meet the membership fee requirement can be sponsored by contacting their school principal, the YMCA, or their club advisors.

immediate steps to insure the entrance not be blocked.

Chief of Police Robert Temple noted that he is aware of the problem at the fire house. He said he would contact the railroad personnel concerning the gates at the South Court crossing.

The chief announced that Bob Gaylord has completed the Ohio State Highway Patrol Academy training for peace officers and that Howard Fletcher is scheduled to take the training in January. The chief reported that Sgt. Larry Pontious has completed a seminar on crime prevention.

The chief of police told council that he had been contacted by an attorney representing the owners of Jack's Tavern asking the city to drop charges against the tavern because the area has been voted dry. He said the attorney also asked him to approve the transfer of the liquor license to another section of the city. He said he denied both requests.

Council voted not to object to an application for transfer of ownership to Mary Cisco of a West Main Street bar and for an application of a license permitting the bar to stay open until 2:30 a.m.

A letter from the Ohio Supreme Court was read by Clerk Robert Shadley. The court requested a supplement to the city code. Mayor Barnhill said he has requested two firms to submit bids for recodification of the code and anticipated having it done early next year.

The report of the income tax revenue fund was read. From Jan. 1 through Oct. 27 receipts totaled $307,027.44. On Jan. 1 there was a balance of $6,845.50

Media Suit Filed By Sheppard Heirs

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Five relatives of the late Dr. Sam Sheppard are suing NBC, Metromedia and Universal City Studios for $10 million over a telecast about his murder case.

None of the defendants could be reached for comment immediately.

The suit, filed in Superior Court here Tuesday, claims that "Guilty or Innocent: The Sam Sheppard Murder Case" humiliated Sheppard's son, Sam, his brothers, Stephen and Richard, and his brothers' wives.

Dr. Sheppard, a prominent Bay Village, Ohio, osteopath, was convicted in 1954 of murdering his wife, Marilyn. After several appeals, the conviction was overturned on grounds of pretrial publicity. He was acquitted at a second trial and died in 1970.

Operating costs through Oct. 1 were $21,697.51. The department transferred $109,767.59 to the general fund and a similar amount to the capital improvement fund earlier in the year, and after Oct. 31 transferred an additional $36,320.14 to each fund.

The city's financial report completed by Marvyn L. Turner showed a deficit of $12,410.05 in the general fund on Oct. 31, a deficit of $8,907.43 in the police and firemen's pension fund.

Following the regular council session, members met with planning and zoning commission to discuss the proposed development of the Replogle land along Nicholas Drive. The proposal calls for Clark Drive to be extended from Nicholas Drive to Linden Lane. The city will construct the street and assess the developer for 100 per cent of the cost of construction. The area will include an exclusive subdivision called Sylvan Village which will have private streets, sewage and water systems. The sewage and water will be connected to the city systems.

A Page Of Opinion

Doomsayers Overreact

Prophets of doom always have been available, and they can be found today. Those who find themselves totally frustrated by the immensity of some of the problems faced in the United States and by the world as a whole sometimes panic into assuming there is no way out of the dilemma.

The optimist will insist so long as man breathes there is a way out of any problem, especially those which man himself created.

A decade or so ago, Dr.

Robert Theobald, a socio-economist, threw in his lot with the pessimists in addressing a conference on issues in religious journalism held at Northwestern University. Dr. Theobald suggested American culture could not change in time to prevent its total destruction.

In his opinion, American culture has become irrelevant to its environment. "As a rational analyst of the present situation," he said, "I must first accept the fact that the probability of collapse is very high."

Those remarks were made during the height of student disorders and turmoil of the mid-1960s. Society has not collapsed and while a new set of problems has presented itself, the strife of a decade ago has ended.

Every social disease includes within itself seeds for either cure or destruction. But no positive steps can spring from abandonment of all hope.

Found Innocent

By JIM BISHOP

We had dinner at the Dupont Plaza. Candace Mossler stroked the soup. She was tiny and pale, white like a snowball. She loved children and sex and money and a place in society.

I dropped the snapshots before her like a hand of poker. They depicted her and a black chauffeur disarrayed in a bedroom. The soup spoon didn't hesitate. "Oh, then," she said in that lilting Georgia tone, "you know who took them, don't you Jee-em?"

"Mah husband." That's how he got his kicks. The pictures were dirty. I didn't believe Jacques Mossler took them. When she finished the soup she exposed the sharp little teeth in a grin. I felt that she didn't expect me to believe he took them.

She and a slick-haired young man, Melvin Powers, were on trial in Miami for the murder of her husband. Jacques, a millionaire banker, had been found dead in a Key Biscayne flat. He had been stabbed 39 times.

"Look for a buddy," I said to a police captain. "Robbers never waste that much energy." Jacques died about 2 a.m. The cops arrested Candace and Mel. A widow with a ready-made boyfriend looks bad.

At the trial, she was terrified. The bony hands quivered, the lower lip trembled like a string on a symphony violin. She smiled; she waved; she whispered to me: "Mah daughter says you'd be a easy man to love." Mel scowled.

State Attorney Richard Gerstein prosecuted. He was tall and dark, a marvel of perfection. He built his case against Candace and Mel in the manner of a boy using building blocks. I had been reporting murder trials for 30 years. A bit of legalistic ignorance rubs off.

Clyde Woody defended Candace. "Mr. Bishop," he said, "I propose to defend this little woman by not saying a word unless her name is mentioned. Every time I hear it I will get to my feet and object."

Mel had Percy Foreman. Mr. Foreman is an expensive armwaver whose growl rattles windows. He knows what Elijah did. And Moses. He quotes prophets and profits. I wondered if he knew what Candace did.

Judge George Schulz was a model of decorum. He concentrated, it seemed to me, on avoiding reversible error. He allowed evidence about Fred Weissel, although no one seemed to know what Weissel had to do with the murder of Jacques Mossler.

Weissel was a married homosexual. About 1 a.m. on the morning of the murder, he was cruising Virginia Key, about five miles north of Key Biscayne. He became too friendly with three beach boys. They beat him to a pulp.

The police found Weissel. He was a wreck. His car had been parked back in Miami. Candace claimed that her husband was a homo. The defense said that Weissel could have murdered Jacques Mossler. The jury listed it under "a reasonable doubt."

Mr. Weissel fled. Mossler was dead. Gerstein proved that Powers was not in Houston when the murder was committed. There was a Miami airport parking ticket proving he was in Miami. Candace, after midnight, took her children to a hospital and reported she had a terrible headache.

She asked the nurse to note the time. It was noted. At the hospital, Mrs. Mossler received a phone call. She said it was from her doctor. Her doctor's name was not Mel Powers.

The lady signed and took the kids home. While she had been away, poor Jacques had been stabbed 39 times. Powers hurried to Houston. He was, he said, "unjustly accused." Acquittal would bring Candace $23 million in three banks. Guilt could bring death.

No one would hang the jury for intelligence. They took ballots and flushed them down the john. They asked the court why one car had "888" on its license plate. It meant nothing. I didn't look at the jury when it came in. My eyes were on Mel, and just behind him, the demure Candace. There was an electrified expression of surprise followed by a sagging of the seat. They were free.

Candace developed into a good bank executive. She wanted to be in Houston society. Her invitations drew icicle eyes. Her big estate was the scene of rowdy fights. She dumped Mel, but he didn't dump easily.

A short time ago she died in a Miami Beach hotel. She left word that she wanted to be buried in Arlington National Cemetery with Jacques Mossler. In death, still overshadowing him...

Ferguson Certifies School Closing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson today certified a Nov. 29 closing date for the Wayne Local School District in Warren County for lack of money.

The auditor said the district would incur a deficit of $73,207 if it operated until the end of the year. By closing on Nov. 29, he said, the district would end the year with a $2,670 surplus.

The final decision on authorizing the school district to close rests with the superintendent of public instruction, the official to whom Ferguson made the certification.

The district could reopen after the first of the year.

GOP Symbol

NEW YORK (AP) — The Republican "elephant" first appeared in an 1874 Harper's Weekly cartoon by Thomas Nast. According to "World Book Encyclopedia," Nast used the elephant as a Republican symbol many times and it soon came to stand for the Republican Party.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Is there any special diet that can cure hiatus hernia?

Mr. A. M., N.J.

Dear Mr. M.:

There is no diet that can change or cure a hiatus hernia. Once this anatomical change has occurred, it can no longer be reversed.

A hiatus hernia, also known as a "diaphragmatic" hernia, is a weakening and bulging of the wall of the esophagus, the tube through which food passes from the mouth to the stomach.

The weakened site is at the point where the esophagus passes through a normal hole in the diaphragm to join up with the stomach. It's a condition that's frequently seen in middle-aged people, particularly those that are overweight.

Diets are directed at making the hiatus hernia patient comfortable, even though the diet does not affect the hernia itself. The most important part of the diet is to avoid overloading the stomach at meal times. Instead, smaller quantities of food at more frequent intervals will prevent the distressing sensation of bloating and fullness.

Try to avoid fried, fatty foods. Liquor and wine should be taken in extreme moderation. Antacids, taken about half an hour after eating, can reduce the heartburn.

Sleeping with the head elevated is strongly suggested.

Not all cases of hiatus hernia are identical. Each individual case must be carefully evaluated for the special attention it may need.

Our 6-year-old son reads some words backwards. Words like "was" he reads as "saw." Will he outgrow this?

Mrs. W. H., Va.

Dear Mrs. H.:

I would not wait for this condition to be remedied by time. It would be much wiser to consult an eye specialist to first find out if there is any eye condition that needs correcting. He will then undoubtedly refer you to one of a group of specialists who are particularly interested in a condition known as "dyslexia."

This is a broad term which includes reading and writing disorders. There are many excellent tests which, in addition to neurological and psychological examinations, can pinpoint the reason for your son's image reversal.

With proper re-education and training devices many of these problems can be corrected. Far too many children who are considered slow learners or poor students are often found to be suffering from an overlooked variation of dyslexia.

Dear Editor:

I am writing to clear up a false belief in Pickaway County. Namely, that we have county wide telephone service. Not true. Circleville exchange has. They can talk free to Ashville, Laurelville and Williamsport. However, Ashville, Laurelville and Williamsport can talk only to Circleville toll free.

If either of these exchanges talks to any other exchange except Circleville, they pay for a long distance call. We have a daughter in Ashville and a son in Laurelville and we have to pay for a long distance call every time we talk to them and they have to pay a long distance toll when they talk to us or to each other.

On Oct. 19 I talked to my daughter for six minutes at 6:39 p.m. paying a charge of 77 cents. I talked to her again on Oct. 24 for five minutes at 7:40 p.m. with a charge of 66 cents. That is at the rate of ten cents a minute to talk to Ashville.

We also talked to our son three times for a total of six minutes and the charge was $1.27. This bill only ran from Oct. 9 through Oct. 24 as we had paid a previous bill and this one was to help get set up for the new billing dates which is okay.

Circleville base rate is $8.80 to talk to anyone listed in General Telephone in this area. This is for a four party line. Williamsport's four party line pays $8.50 and can only talk to Circleville without long distance charge.

We live on State Route 138 about one mile from a Circleville phone on State Route 138 and about the same distance to a Circleville line on Hickory Bend Road and about the same distance from a Circleville line on State Route 22.

When I talked to the manager of GTE he said nothing could be done unless all of Williamsport wanted the service county wide.

I asked if the approximately 10 phones in the mile distance on State Route 138 could not be hooked up to Circleville. He said no because that was the way the area was laid out. I wonder when this was done? How many years ago?

I told him I was not satisfied with his answer but I thanked him for his time.

By the way, I could not talk to him face to face. I had to talk to him over a phone in the street level office.

I'd like to hear some more opinions from other subscribers. I'd also like to

Dear Editor:

In the Friday, Nov. 12 edition of The Herald you had an article about the new fire truck Kingston has recently obtained. I would like to make a few things clear. Number one, that story leads the people of Pickaway Twp. to think they don't have a fire department. Well, they do.

Second, the Kingston Department has several pieces of equipment of ours stationed there for backup. I will say that Kingston does have a good fire department. They have the latest equipment which takes money to obtain.

But Pickaway Twp. is capable of fire fighting abilities just as Kingston is. Our station has four trucks in it. Two 76s, one 69 pumper and one 70 grass unit. So to the people of this township when you go through Kingston and see a fire truck with Pickaway Township on it, just stop and think. You are paying taxes for a fire truck or should I say several trucks to be in Kingston. Also we are paying a storage fee to keep those trucks down there.

So if any resident of Pickaway Twp. has any questions, stop by the fire house. Or if you would like to write some questions for me to answer, please mail them and I'll be glad to answer everyone of them. Thank you.

NEW YORK (AP) — The cost of home mortgages might be coming down in 1977.

That pleasant prospect comes from the people who should know, the officials of the nation's savings and loan associations, who make the majority of home mortgage loans.

"Savings are coming in at a great rate and we're starting to pile up money," said a representative of the U.S. League of Savings Associations, which is holding its annual meeting here.

"When you've got a lot of merchandise on the shelf and you want to move it you lower prices," he explained, noting that savings held by the associations rose about $50 billion in the past year to a total of $340 billion. Homebuyers aren't used to good news of this sort, but in a way they can thank themselves. It takes savings to make mortgages, and a good many of those who borrow for mortgages are savers also.

Those savings have soared in the past two decades or so, helping build total assets of the associations to more than $380 billion, compared with a mere $16.9 billion in 1950.

Savers at the associations earn 5.25 per cent interest on ordinary passbook accounts, and 7.75 per cent on six-year certificates of deposit. But borrowing charges have averaged about 8.75 per cent.

Because of this spread, which the league calls "an unprecedented development during recent years," the associations have managed to significantly improve their sometimes unsteady earnings.

It is for this reason that economists of the league now feel that a decline of one-half per cent on mortgage charges is likely in 1977, with an upturn in home sales following as a direct consequence.

League economists now project 1.8 million new housing starts in 1977, compared with an expected total of 1.5 million this year. They anticipate an unusually large rise in the multi-family market.

To the surprise of some people, the savings and loan people had a very good year in 1976 in spite of the relatively weak new-home market because of continued strength in existing-home sales.

This phenomenon has gone almost unnoticed in popular portraits of the housing market, but it has become a huge factor. Sales of existing homes are reported as strong throughout the country.

Price, quality of construction, size and many other factors are offered as explanations of the strength in this used-home market, in which sales are expected to reach 2.7 million units this year.

Price remains the big restraint on sales of new homes. The league spokesman said it is unlikely now that many new, single-family homes can be found anywhere but in the South for less than $40,000 to $45,000.

But, with the price of money falling — albeit remaining relatively high — the league expects sales in 1977 to show decidedly more strength than this year.

A Page Of Opinion

Doomsayers Overreact

Prophets of doom always have been available, and they can be found today. Those who find themselves totally frustrated by the immensity of some of the problems faced in the United States and by the world as a whole sometimes panic into assuming there is no way out of the dilemma.

The optimist will insist so long as man breathes there is a way out of any problem, especially those which man himself created.

A decade or so ago, Dr.

Robert Theobald, a socio-economist, threw in his lot with the pessimists in addressing a conference on issues in religious journalism held at Northwestern University. Dr. Theobald suggested American culture could not change in time to prevent its total destruction.

In his opinion, American culture has become irrelevant to its environment. "As a rational analyst of the present situation," he said, "I must first accept the fact that the probability of collapse is very high."

Those remarks were made during the height of student disorders and turmoil of the mid-1960s. Society has not collapsed and while a new set of problems has presented itself, the strife of a decade ago has ended.

Every social disease includes within itself seeds for either cure or destruction. But no positive steps can spring from abandonment of all hope.

Found Innocent

By JIM BISHOP

We had dinner at the Dupont Plaza. Candace Mossler stroked the soup. She was tiny and pale, white on white like a snowball. She loved children and sex and money and a place in society.

I dropped the snapshots before her like a hand of poker. They depicted her and a black chauffeur disarrayed in a bedroom. The soup spoon didn't hesitate. "Oh them," she said in that lilting Georgia tone, "you know who took them, don't you Jee-em?"

"Mah husban'. That's how he got his kids." The pictures were dirty. I didn't believe Jacques Mossler took them. When she finished the soup she exposed the sharp little teeth in a grin. I felt that she didn't expect me to believe he took them.

She and a slick-haired young man, Melvin Powers, were on trial in Miami for the murder of her husband, Jacques, a millionaire banker, had been found dead in a Key Biscayne flat. He had been stabbed 39 times. "Look for a buddy," I said to a police captain. "Robbers never waste that much energy." Jacques died about 2 a.m. The cops arrested Candace and Mel. A widow with a ready-made boyfriend looks bad.

At the trial, she was terrified. The bony hands quivered, the lower lip trembled like a string on a symphony violin. She smiled; she waved; she whispered to me: "Mah daughter says you'd be a easy man to love." Mel scowled.

State Attorney Richard Gerstein prosecuted. He was tall and dark, a marvel of perfection. He built his case against Candace and Mel in the manner of a boy using building blocks. I had been reporting murder trials for 30 years. A bit of legalistic ignorance rubs off.

Clyde Woody defended Candace. "Mr. Bishop," he said, "I propose to defend this little woman by not saying a word unless her name is mentioned. Every time I hear it I will get to my feet and object."

Mel had Percy Foreman. Mr. Foreman is an expensive armwaver whose growl rattles windows. He knows what Elijah did. And Moses. He quotes prophets and profits. I wondered if he knew what Candace did.

Judge George Schulz was a model of decorum. He concentrated, it seemed to me, on avoiding reversible error. He allowed evidence about Fred Weissel, although no one seemed to know what Weissel had to do with the murder of Jacques Mossler.

Weissel was a married homosexual. About 1 a.m. on the morning of the murder, he was cruising Virginia Key, about five miles north of Key Biscayne. He became too friendly with three beach boys. They beat him to a pulp.

The police found Weissel. He was a wreck. His car had been parked back in Miami. Candace claimed that her husband was a homo. The defense said that Weissel could have murdered Jacques Mossler. The jury listed it under "a reasonable doubt."

Mr. Weissel fled. Mossler was dead. Gerstein proved that Powers was not in Houston when the murder was committed. There was a Miami airport parking ticket proving he was in Miami. Candace, after midnight, took her children to a hospital and reported she had a terrible headache.

She asked the nurse to note the time. It was noted. At the hospital, Mrs. Mossler received a phone call. She said it was from her doctor. Her doctor's name was not Mel Powers.

The lady signed and took the kids home. While she had been away, poor Jacques had been stabbed 39 times. Powers hurried to Houston. He was, he said, "unjustly accused." Acquittal would bring Candace $23 million in three banks. Guilt could bring death.

No one would hang the jury for intelligence. They took ballots and flushed them down the john. They asked the court why one car had "888" on its license plate. It meant nothing.

I didn't look at the jury when it came in. My eyes were on Mel, and just behind him, the demure Candace. There was an electrified expression of surprise followed by a sagging of the seat. They were free.

Candace developed into a good bank executive. She wanted to be in Houston society. Her invitations drew icicle eyes. Her big estate was the scene of rowdy fights. She dumped Mel, but he didn't dump easily.

A short time ago she died in a Miami Beach hotel. She left word that she wanted to be buried in Arlington National Cemetery with Jacques Mossler. In death, still overshadowing him.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson today certified a Nov. 29 closing date for the Wayne Local School District in Warren County for lack of money.

The auditor said the district would incur a deficit of $73,207 if it operated until the end of the year. By closing on Nov. 29, he said, the district would end the year with a $2,670 surplus.

The final decision on authorizing the school district to close rests with the superintendent of public instruction, the official to whom Ferguson made the certification.

The district could reopen after the first of the year.

So to the people of this township when you go through Kingston and see a fire truck with Pickaway Township on it, just stop and think. You are paying taxes for a fire truck or should I say several trucks to be in Kingston. Also we are paying a storage fee to keep those trucks down there.

So if any resident of Pickaway Twp. has any questions, stop by the fire house. Or if you would like to write some questions for me to answer, please mail them and I'll be glad to answer everyone of them. Thank you.

Dear Editor:

This is to say "thanks" to the thoughtful person who found and mailed an envelope my daughter-in-law lost at the Pumpkin Show.

When we got home she contacted the bank and the utility company, but a few days later the bank called to say the check had been received and cashed by the company so thanks again to the unknown benefactor!

We have been coming every year to the Show, and have enjoyed it - rain, shine or snow!

Sincerely yours,
ALONZO C. KISER

Liquor Applications, Transfers

Ohio Department of Liquor Control Director Clifford E. Reich announced today that applications for new liquor permits and transfers of location or ownership are now being processed by the department.

"The applicant and intended premises are investigated carefully before any decision is made regarding the issuance or denial of a permit," the director explained. "The usual time for the processing of an application is about 45 days."

The department releases the names of persons applying for permits to the news media and to municipal and county officials for the purpose of obtaining all information pertinent to the application.

"We hope that persons who have objections to permits under consideration will inform the department immediately," Reich said. "We base our judgement to issue or deny on the quota of permits allowed in the area according to population and the findings of our investigations. If the applicant is qualified and there is an opening, we are required by law to issue the permit," the director concluded.

Classroom Computer Promoted

SIOUX CITY, Iowa (AP) — A Morningside College professor says a relatively inexpensive, portable classroom computer could change learning techniques in American classrooms.

"Our system of education is based on groups of people all the same age going through classroom programs at the same rate of speed — some learning more than others," says Dr. Richard Evans.

Evans, 43, a professor of educational psychology, said testing by a computer such as Morningside's $12,000, 50-pound model, "would provide the conditions for a higher degree of success than we now have. Perhaps 90 per cent of the kids could function at grade A levels."

"We know some kids learn probably five or six times faster than others, yet we keep them all together in the same grade through all 12 years of school, resulting in unfair teaching."

Some larger universities use computers in the learning process, Evans said, but they cost from $300,000 to $500,000, "and nobody is using a computer for time-variable learning."

Evans said if schools were reorganized "according to the way kids learn — allowing the time for learning to vary — we could prevent much of the failure which is evident in schools today."

He said the system can be changed

by computers "keeping track of the kids going through a curriculum at their own rate of speed, rather than at a speed convenient for the administration."

Schools today aren't as good as they could be, Evans said, with some reports "showing 11 per cent of high school seniors as functional illiterates."

Evans, a Morningside professor for five years, is using an IBM 5100 portable computer.

"We really don't know how fast students can progress because the concept hasn't been tried that much," he said.

Students take a total of five computer-administered tests in educational psychology when they feel they are ready. Each exam offers multiple-choice answers to questions selected at random by the computer from a large question-pool.

The idea behind computer tests is mastery learning, Evans said. "This assumes that almost all kids can learn almost anything the schools teach."

In current testing situations, "students who give wrong answers are not given an opportunity or assistance to correct errors," he said. "They leave the course ignorant of certain concepts and misinformed about others."

The computer flashes a question on a display screen. If the student selects the wrong answer, the computer displays "Try again." When the correct choice is made, the screen provides further explanation to a question, plus pages in text books for additional reference.

Comparing two classes of students,

Evans said a computer-tested group "did more work, perceived that they learned more, and actually did score higher" than the non-computer group.

Police Arrest Four

Circleville Police arrested four persons from the Columbus area yesterday following a call from the Portsmouth Police Department.

According to the report, a patrolman from the Portsmouth Police Department stopped a car to charge its driver with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence. The patrolman observed a large amount of cigarettes, wine, and beer in the backseat of the vehicle. Upon questioning, the subjects admitted that they broke into a carry-out in Circleville.

The Circleville Police Department was telephoned and Patrolmen Ron Thompson and Alan Hawks started to check carry-outs in the city. They discovered that Gourmet Corner Carry-Out, at N. Court St. and Wilson Ave., had been entered by smashing a 12 inch by 18 inch window and reaching inside to unlock the door.

At the time the report was taken, owner Burl Wiggins was unable to determine exactly what was missing, except for $16.41 in cash and $25 worth of food stamps.

Sgt. Larry Pontious and Thompson traveled to Portsmouth Tuesday morning to return the subjects to Circleville. Three of the subjects are juveniles. The one adult, William Justice, 24, of Columbus, faces charges by the Portsmouth Police Department of driving with an invalid operator's license, and driving while under the influence.

Upon their return to Circleville, all will be charged with breaking and entering.

The state treasurer, Mrs. Elza Miles and four delegates, Miss Lela Brookshire, Miss Elizabeth Ammann, Mrs. Elmer J. Niskanen and Miss Helen Mettler represented Old Trails Chapter at the Assembly.

On Friday morning the genealogical workshop was conducted. Many books were exhibited to aid in research, also good sources were to be found at the Ohio State Library, Ohio Historical society and Columbus Public Library.

In the afternoon an impressive Memorial Service for 24 deceased daughters during the past year, including from Old Trails Chapter, Mrs. Samuel L. Fuller and Mrs. John F. Nye.

The annual Ohio State Banquet was held in the Highland-King Room is always a highlight and this year was no exception. The focus was on the Bicentennial year. After the procession of officers escorted by pages and color guard, a call to order was made by the state regent, Mrs. Hershel A. Dunnire. The invocation was given followed by the pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America. National Officers and State Officers were presented and distinguished guests introduced. A tribute to Mrs. Robert L. Mitchell, national treasurer, was made by Miss Leonore M. Mills, honorary national vice president, Middle West Section.

A reception followed honoring Mrs. Robert L. Mitchell and to meet national officers, honorary state regents and state officers.

Neasses' paper titled "My Pioneer Grandmother's Encounters with the Indians" won third place. The public relations reports for newspaper and radio by Miss Mettler placed second.

A stop to visit the Trumbull County Historical Society house was made, then on down Millionaires Row to the new public library. Here we were conducted to the second floor where we were met by a costumed guide who told us about the Sutliff Museum, which is a very beautiful room, with many lovely antiques.

Saturday evening Supper Meeting also had a Bicentennial theme. Many of the members wore colonial costumes. Forty costumes of different eras made and owned by a lady were exhibited. Scioto Chapel Society Holds Meet

What can you do when you are born in the middle of a large family and you have no arms?

Bonnie Consolo of Westerville proved to the women of Scioto Chapel Women's Society that you can become a charming, cheerful, efficient wife and mother. She drove her own car to the Scioto Chapel Church the day of the meeting, and showed a film, "A Day In The Life Of Bonnie Consolo", to show how she manages to do things with her feet that most of us use both hands and feet to perform.

She told of her turbulent emotions concerning her handicap, stirred up mostly by unfeeling people. When she finally accepted her fate and made the most of it, she lost a lot of her handicap. She has become so successful that her film is being shown to handicapped people of all ages.

The business meeting was held with Alice Ward presiding.

Devotions were presented by Almeda Prince, who read Psalm 100 and "The Art of Thanksgiving". With Nancy Kirkpatrick at the piano, the group sang "Come, Ye Thankful People."

Secretary's report, roll call, and treasurer's report were read. Frances Noggle reported on the financial success of the recent supper.

Appreciation notes were read from Steven and Marilyn Fausnaugh.

It was also noted to send the usual checks and fruit trays at Christmas time.

The nominating committee presented the slate of officers for 1977 with the following results: president, Linda Beavers; vice-president, Elizabeth Downs; secretary, Mary Doddroe; assistant secretary, Nancy Kirkpatrick; treasurer, Frances Noggle; reporter, Mildred Koch.

December 8 will be the date for the "appreciation of workers" carry-in dinner, to begin at 6:30 in the Parish Hall. Bring your own table service and a covered dish. There will be no other Christmas party for the society.

Fannie Brooks announced a need for contributions for the elderly at Christmas. Anyone interested should contact Wanda Hamilton at the Senior Citizens Center.

With fall and Thanksgiving motifs used in decorating the hall and tempting the palate, 28 members and guests enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Prince, assisted by Mrs. Kirkpatrick's mother Mrs. Paulus. Joyce Guzik, also a hostess, was unable to attend.

Shelby Dye was chosen as the chairman.

Members of the 20th year committee were Mrs. Tom Elsea, Mrs. Lowell Rader, Mrs. Richard Alkire, Mrs.

Margaret Lagerstram, Mrs. David Steele, Mrs. Jim Marshall, Mrs. Ralph Jones, Mrs. Judy Ramey, Mrs. Delores Rogols.

Information in Saturday's paper concerning Berger Hospital General Guild's annual Christmas Bazaar inadvertently confused the raffle and sale items.

The large wreath shown in the photograph will be sold, not raffled, at the bazaar. Three smaller wreaths will be raffled in separate drawings. Articles for sale include decoupage ornaments, stuffed ducks, macrame hangers and dough ornaments. Plants will not be sold as earlier mentioned.

The wreaths were made by members of Hospital Guild 52.

Correction

In Monday's edition of the Herald, an article was published on the Society Page concerning plans for a dinner sponsored by Christian Women's Society of the Northridge Church of Christ. The dinner was for the employees of the Pickaway County Sheltered Workshop and the date was inadvertently listed as Dec. 23. The actual date for the dinner is Nov. 23.

Mocha Angel Cake

If you're not counting calories, cover it with a mocha frosting!

1/2 cup sifted cake flour
1 1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
1/4 cup unsweetened cocoa
1 tablespoon instant coffee powder
1 1/2 cups egg whites (from 12 eggs)
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoons cream of tartar
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
1 cup granulated sugar

Sift together cake flour, confectioners' sugar, cocoa and instant coffee. Beat egg whites with salt, cream of tartar and vanilla until soft peaks form.

Gradually beat in granulated sugar, beating until stiff peaks form. Fold in flour mixture, about a fourth at a time; do not overmix. Turn into ungreased 10-in tube pan; run a knife through batter to eliminate large air spaces.

Bake in 375-degree oven for 30 minutes, until cake springs back when touched lightly with finger. Invert pan over funnel and let hang until cake is completely cool. Yield: 12 servings. This delightful dessert comes from "The More or Less Cookbooks" by Maryellen Spencer (Van Nostrand Reinhold), a new paperback contribution: one cookbook contains recipes that never count a calorie and the other, recipes that cut calories.

Good Shepherd Circle Meets

Circle I of Good Shepherd Church met recently in the home of Mrs. Betty Andrews.

The meeting was opened with prayer by the leader, Carol Bowers.

Childrens clothing is needed at the clothing bank, according to Opal Leist. It was also announced that the election day luncheon was a success.

Gladys Noggle announced that the missionary of the month was Edna Ridley of Georgia. She also read Psalm 95.

Martha Jo Meadows was welcomed as a new member.

It was announced that a carry-in dinner would be held Dec. 9 at 6:30 p.m. in the service center. The Circle will meet with Circle 4 for the Christmas Party.

Gladys Noggle was program leader for the evening. Jessie Cummings read II Chronicles 5:11-14. Margery Ankrom, Ethel Eye, Lucille Thomas, and Carol Bowers gave reading explaining the hymn, "For The Beauty Of The Earth."

The members placed their Thank offering boxes on the worship center telling of the blessings received this past year. The doxology was sung by Pam Crabtree with members giving a response. A friendship circle was formed with closing prayer by Gladys Noggle.

Refreshments were served to 13 members by Betty Andrews and Lucille Thomas.

Pickaway Council Of Garden Clubs Holds Holiday Tea

The Pickaway Council of Garden Clubs met Wednesday evening at the Historical building for their annual "Holiday Tea".

Mrs. Martha Huston of Solaqua Club presided at the meeting.

Kenneth Temple of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, Division of Natural Areas and Preservations, gave an informative talk and showed slides of Ohio's natural areas.

Mrs. Donna B gave a demonstration of making corn husk wreaths. The meeting was concluded with "dos and don'ts" for Fall in caring for and wintering flowers and shrubs.

A tea table was set by the Logan Elm Club members, who served as hostesses.

Other county clubs represented were Deercreek, Circleville, Derby, and Monrovia.

Christmas Bazaar Corrections Made

Information in Saturday's paper concerning Berger Hospital General Guild's annual Christmas Bazaar inadvertently confused the raffle and sale items.

The large wreath shown in the photograph will be sold, not raffled, at the bazaar. Three smaller wreaths will be raffled in separate drawings. Articles for sale include decoupage ornaments, stuffed ducks, macrame hangers and dough ornaments. Plants will not be sold as earlier mentioned.

The wreaths were made by members of Hospital Guild 52.

Bridge Winners Are Announced

Winners in Pickaway Country Club Bridge play Thursday were Louise Story, first; Mary Goldschmidt, second; Dottie Smith, third.

All PCC women are invited to participate in the weekly bridge which begins at 10 a.m. Thursday. No reservations are necessary.

Correction

In Monday's edition of the Herald, an article was published on the Society Page concerning plans for a dinner sponsored by Christian Women's Society of the Northridge Church of Christ. The dinner was for the employees of the Pickaway County Sheltered Workshop and the date was inadvertently listed as Dec. 23. The actual date for the dinner is Nov. 23.

LADIES HONORED — Honored at the Beta Sigma Banquet in Chillicothe were, from the left, Betty Kerns, Diane Bennett, Diane Seurkamp, Becky Davis, and Emma Curlett.

Five Beta Sigs Honored

At a recent Saturday night banquet of Beta Sigma Phi in Chillicothe, five local members were honored.

Mrs. Gene Kerns, Mrs. William Bennett, and Mrs. Harry Seurkamp were inducted as new members.

Mrs. Stephen Davis received the Ritual of Jewels after completing a year as a pledge.

And Mrs. Charles Curlett received the Silver Circle ritual honoring members of 25 years. She has been a member of Beta Sigma Phi for 36 years.

Other members attending were Mrs. Brent Rhoads, Mrs. James Minor, Mrs. Robert Sutton, and Mrs. John Keichner.

Mrs. John Moore will host the Dec. 7, 7:30 p.m., meeting at her home, 310 Sunset Drive.

Christmas gift wrapping by Rosemary Linn will be the program.

Hand In Hand Is Name Of New Stoutsville CCL

The Hand In Hand Child Conservation League of Stoutsville met recently in the home of Jackie Rhymmer with Linda Gobel as co-hostess.

The group selected the name Hand In Hand for their new chapter of the Ohio Child Conservation League.

It was also decided to provide a clothing room for the Stoutsville School and to help a family at Christmas.

The traveling door prize was won by Melinda Hinton, who will provide the door prize for the December meeting.

The Hand In Hand CCL held a Christmas auction with homemade items provided by the members and knickknacks donated by the Amanda Bent Bolt Co., Amanda.

Following the auction, a discussion was held on the moral side and safety of new toys on the market for Christmas.

Secret Sister names were drawn and each lady was asked to bring a gift for her Secret Sister at the December meeting.

Lana Sams, program chairwoman, asked that her committee and the club's officers meet at her home Nov. 18 to plan programs for the year.

After adjournment, the members were served refreshments.

The next meeting will be held Dec. 13 at the home of Diana Rhymmer.

Wondering what kind of sandwiches to pack into that lunchbox? Finely chopped ripe olives and walnuts blended with mayonnaise is an old-fashioned spread that still tastes delicious.

BAZAAR — The annual Emmett Chapel Church Bazaar is to be held Saturday from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. at the church. Crocheted and knitted articles, baked goods including homemade noodles, Christmas items, macramae, and many novelty items will be featured. Pictures above are Nancy Reeves, Margie Bell, and Nita Cook, chairpersons for the event.

Mocha angel cake, coffee.

Mocha Angel Cake

If you're not counting calories, cover it with a mocha frosting!

1/4 cup sifted cake flour
1 1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
1/4 cup unsweetened cocoa
1 tablespoon instant coffee powder
1 1/2 cups egg whites (from 12 eggs)
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoons cream of tartar
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
1 cup granulated sugar

Sift together cake flour, confectioners' sugar, cocoa and instant coffee. Beat egg whites with salt, cream of tartar and vanilla until soft peaks form.

Gradually beat in granulated sugar, beating until stiff peaks form. Fold in flour mixture, about a fourth at a time; do not overmix. Turn into ungreased 10-in tube pan; run a knife through batter to eliminate large air spaces.

Bake in 375-degree oven for 30 minutes, until cake springs back when touched lightly with finger. Invert pan over funnel and let hang until cake is completely cool. Yield: 12 servings. This delightful dessert comes from "The More or Less Cookbooks" by Maryellen Spencer (Van Nostrand Reinhold), a new paperback contribution: one cookbook contains recipes that never count a calorie and the other, recipes that cut calories.

Loan Scandal Repayment Demanded

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An assistant attorney general argued today that former state Treasurer John Herbert and other principals in the six-year-old Statehouse loan scandal should be personally liable for $9 million.

"The public official entrusted with public funds is an insurer of those funds," said Asst. Atty. Gen. Stephen C. Fitch in oral arguments before the Ohio Supreme Court.

The state is arguing that Herbert, while in office in 1970, exceeded a $50 million limit on investment in commercial paper.

Consequently, Atty. Gen. William J. Brown is seeking recovery of lost funds plus interest in the $8 million loan to King Resources, a Denver, Colo., oil drilling firm, that went bankrupt in 1971.

The state's claim of civil liability against Herbert, his deputy Robert Gardner, and their bonding companies has been rejected in common pleas court and the 10th District Court of Appeals.

Herbert's lawyer, Paul Tague, said the treasurer's office only exceeded the $50 million investment limit in aggregate amount for four weeks in 1970. The loan was not certified as delinquent until 1972, 20 months after Herbert left office on Jan. 1, 1972, he added.

"Any loss that may have occurred thereafter should not be laid at his doorstep," Tague contended.

Chief Justice W. William O'Neill, however, noted that "the law was clear" when Herbert purchased the notes.

"When he violated the law, then he assumed the risk..." O'Neill later said. He said if Herbert is excused from liability, "What then is the standard for a public official?"

An act of 1852 by the Ohio Legislature limited women and children under 18 to a 10-hour day, the sole regulation of its kind in that period except for a provision forbidding employment of children under 12 in mines, enacted in 1874. Otherwise these were no restrictions on employment of women and children.—AP

See No Changes For State GOP

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — House Minority Leader Charles F. Kurfess doesn't plan any major change in direction for his depleted Republican caucus.

Kurfess, who saw the Republican base in the House slip from 40 to 37 in the election, faced a small but vocal band of dissidents at an organizational caucus.

Although a planned challenge to his leadership fizzled, there were calls for a change in approach by the minority bloc, which no longer has enough votes to sustain GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes' vetoes.

Kurfess, a Bowling Green lawyer, is not adverse to new strategies or policies, but contends "the role of the minority in the House is a continuously changing one."

Cross, Blade Author Speaks In Chillicothe

David Wilkerson, author of "The Cross And The Switchblade," will be speaking 7:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday at the Smith Junior High School auditorium, Chillicothe. There is no admission charge.

"The Cross And The Switchblade," Wilkerson's first book, is the account of his first efforts to reach and rehabilitate street gang members during the era of the gang wars of the late 1950's and early 1960's.

The book, first published in 1962, is in its 28th printing and has been translated into 32 languages and has passed the 10 million mark in sales. It was made into a feature-length movie in 1970 with Pat Boone playing the part of David Wilkerson.

Wilkerson's book details the formation of the organization called Teen Challenge which in the past decade has become one of the most successful in the world for the rehabilitation of drug addicts. Teen Challenge now has facilities in 50 cities in the United States and a documented cure rate of 74 per cent.

One of Wilkerson's first encounters with a teen gang member, as related in his book, was with Nicky Cruz, leader of the notorious Mau Mau's. Cruz was known as one of the most feared and hated street fighters in New York. When Wilkerson first approached Cruz, he spit on him, slapped him across the face and told him to "go to hell." Nicky Cruz later became David Wilkerson's first convert and one of his most trusted assistants.

Wilkerson now spends the majority of his time speaking to teenagers about drugs, sex, alcohol, rebellion and other subjects of current interest.

CBC Choir To Present Musical

The College-Community Choir of Circleville will be presenting a musical entitled "Harvest Celebration" on Monday at 8 p.m. in the Campus Church of Christ in Christian Union.

This choir is made up of people from various churches in the community as well as students of Circleville Bible College.

Gary L. Hubartt, professor of music and choir director at Circleville Bible College, is the director. The musical features patriotic selections as well as selections in keeping with the Thanksgiving season.

Darrell Bellomy, Jack Born, Mrs. Norma Graham, and Gary L. Hubartt are the featured soloists and Elmer Winner will be reading the Abraham Lincoln Thanksgiving Proclamation.

The accompanists are Miss Kathy Wellman and Mrs. Kathryn Hill. This musical was presented at the Circleville Pumpkin Show. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

"The different things we'll do, will depend on the particular situation."

Kurfess, a former speaker of the House who is completing his 20th year in the legislature, noted that election losers often react by saying "the people have spoken."

"Sometimes," Kurfess said, "I wish we hadn't asked them."

Democratic victories in Ohio congressional races have not stilled talk of another effort in the state legislature to redistrict boundary lines to benefit Democratic candidates.

State Sen. Donald J. Pease, D-13 Oberlin, captured the 13th Congressional District seat in north central Ohio, left vacant by the retirement of GOP Rep. Charles Mosher. And Cincinnati attorney Thomas Luken ousted incumbent Rep. Donald D. Clancy, a Republican in the 2nd district.

That chipped the Republican edge from 15-8 to 13-10 in the Ohio congressional delegation.

But Democrats were bitterly disappointed by the narrow loss of Columbus city councilwoman Fran Ryan to Rep. Sam Devine, R-12. And former state legislator John McDonald got swamped by conservative Rep.

John M. Ashbrook, R-17, despite an ambitious campaign.

A redistricting effort would of course fuel partisan fires, but the veto-proof Democratic legislature could surmount a veto by Rhodes. There would probably be a degree of discontent however, even in Democratic ranks, since Democratic strength in some districts would be eroded somewhat to shore up other areas.

The districts in Cincinnati and Columbus could well become doughnut shaped in each city—an outlying suburban district that would be conceded to a Republican and a central city district for a Democrat, like Fran Ryan or Tom Luken.

Two northwest Ohio state senators have introduced a resolution recognizing this week as "National Liederkrantz Week." In a joint statement, Sens. M. Ben Gaeth, R-1 Defiance, and Paul E. Gillmor, R-2 Port Clinton, said: "The world's supply of this gastronomical treat is produced in Van Wert under the watchful eyes and expert control of Van Wert's master cheese makers. At full ripeness, Liederkrantz has delighted the world's palate and brought fame to this community."

Arsonists Subsidized By Homeowners?

CINCINNATI (AP) — Arsonists may have been subsidized to the tune of $1.883 million in 1975 by homeowners and business insurance premiums.

Ronald K. Melott of Boston, Mass., an arson expert with the National Fire Protection Association, said known incendiaries cost $633,900,000 in 1974.

He said another $1.2 billion in fires of unknown causes may have been largely arson, and proper fire investigations would have shown arson losses to have been much higher.

Melott said arson is big business and "torches (professional arsonists) are as easy to find as prostitutes."

Fire prevention, he said, is a victim of current economics.

Local governments are cutting back "behind the scenes" personnel while trying to maintain the firemen who actually put out the fires.

Businessmen, home owners and car owners are "torching" their buildings, stock and automobiles at an even increasing rate to cover losses or get out from under heavy financial burdens, he said.

Melott said there is little deterrent to arson "because of risk. Only one per cent of the arrests are ever convicted, and the insurance companies are finding the premiums are becoming prohibitive."

Melott said there was evidence in eastern cities that real estate groups have been buying buildings ostensibly for rehabilitation, but burning them and collecting insurance based on rehabilitated values.

Melott said car owners by the score are abandoning their cars and burning them while reporting them stolen.

George Keller, director of the Cincinnati Insurance Institute, agreed with Melott, but said new federal laws are giving the insurance companies a chance to fight back.

"Of course, it is easy to find someone to light a match for you. All you have to do is go to the right places and make it known," said Keller.

Keller said new federal laws passed three months ago now permit insurance companies to turn over evidence of suspected arson to prosecuting authorities.

"We were in an unenviable position before," said Keller. He said insurance companies who brought arson charges faced lawsuits if they failed to win convictions. The new law now protects them.

"Also, a new law in Ohio doubles the penalty," he said. Conviction for arson now could bring up to a $25,000 fine and 10 years in jail, he said.

Keller also said the insurance industry is now in the process of developing its own investigation system and hiring and training arson detection experts with an eye toward hard prosecution. "Our early figures indicate we save $5 for ever $1 spent for investigation," Keller said.

Keller also said that stopping arson would save home owners 20 per cent on their home insurance and 40 per cent on fire premiums.

Pickaway County Humane Society reminds you that the pet population problem is real. Spaying or neutering your pet is the best way to help solve the problem. Other solutions include confining your pet when in heat, enforcing strict leash laws and encouraging your friends to do the same.

Loan Scandal Repayment Demanded

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An assistant attorney general argued today that former state Treasurer John Herbert and other principals in the six-year-old Statehouse loan scandal should be personally liable for $9 million.

"The public official entrusted with public funds is an insurer of those funds," said Asst. Atty. Gen. Stephen C. Fitch in oral arguments before the Ohio Supreme Court.

The state is arguing that Herbert, while in office in 1970, exceeded a $50 million limit on investment in commercial paper.

Consequently, Atty. Gen. William J. Brown is seeking recovery of lost funds plus interest in the $8 million loan to King Resources, a Denver, Colo., oil drilling firm, that went bankrupt in 1971.

The state's claim of civil liability against Herbert, his deputy Robert Gardner, and their bonding companies has been rejected in common pleas court and the 10th District Court of Appeals.

Herbert's lawyer, Paul Tague, said the treasurer's office only exceeded the $50 million investment limit in aggregate amount for four weeks in 1970. The loan was not certified as delinquent until 1972, 20 months after Herbert left office on Jan. 1, 1972, he added.

"Any loss that may have occurred thereafter should not be laid at his doorstep," Tague contended.

Chief Justice W. William O'Neill, however, noted that "the law was clear" when Herbert purchased the notes.

"When he violated the law, then he assumed the risk..." O'Neill later said. He said if Herbert is excused from liability, "What then is the standard for a public official?"

An act of 1852 by the Ohio Legislature limited women and children under 18 to a 10-hour day, the sole regulation of its kind in that period except for a provision forbidding employment of children under 12 in mines, enacted in 1874. Otherwise these were no restrictions on employment of women and children.—AP

See No Changes For State GOP

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — House Minority Leader Charles F. Kurfess doesn't plan any major change in direction for his depleted Republican caucus.

Kurfess, who saw the Republican base in the House slip from 40 to 37 in the election, faced a small but vocal band of dissidents at an organizational caucus.

Although a planned challenge to his leadership fizzled, there were calls for a change in approach by the minority bloc, which no longer has enough votes to sustain GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes' vetoes.

Kurfess, a Bowling Green lawyer, is not adverse to new strategies or policies, but contends "the role of the minority in the House is a continuously changing one."

Cross, Blade Author Speaks In Chillicothe

David Wilkerson, author of "The Cross And The Switchblade," will be speaking 7:30 p.m. Thursday and Friday at the Smith Junior High School auditorium, Chillicothe. There is no admission charge.

"The Cross And The Switchblade," Wilkerson's first book, is the account of his first efforts to reach and rehabilitate street gang members during the era of the gang wars of the late 1950's and early 1960's.

The book, first published in 1962, is in its 28th printing and has been translated into 32 languages and has passed the 10 million mark in sales. It was made into a feature-length movie in 1970 with Pat Boone playing the part of David Wilkerson.

Wilkerson's book details the formation of the organization called Teen Challenge which in the past decade has become one of the most successful in the world for the rehabilitation of drug addicts. Teen Challenge now has facilities in 50 cities in the United States and a documented cure rate of 74 per cent.

One of Wilkerson's first encounters with a teen gang member, as related in his book, was with Nicky Cruz, leader of the notorious Mau Mau's. Cruz was known as one of the most feared and hated street fighters in New York. When Wilkerson first approached Cruz, he spit on him, slapped him across the face and told him to "go to hell." Nicky Cruz later became David Wilkerson's first convert and one of his most trusted assistants.

Wilkerson now spends the majority of his time speaking to teenagers about drugs, sex, alcohol, rebellion and other subjects of current interest.

CBC Choir To Present Musical

The College-Community Choir of Circleville will be presenting a musical entitled "Harvest Celebration" on Monday at 8 p.m. in the Campus Church of Christ in Christian Union.

This choir is made up of people from various churches in the community as well as students of Circleville Bible College.

Gary L. Hubart, professor of music and choir director at Circleville Bible College, is the director. The musical features patriotic selections as well as selections in keeping with the Thanksgiving season.

Darrell Bellomy, Jack Born, Mrs. Norma Graham, and Gary L. Hubart are the featured soloists and Elmer Winner will be reading the Abraham Lincoln Thanksgiving Proclamation. The accompanists are Miss Kathy Wellman and Mrs. Kathryn Hill. This musical was presented at the Circleville Pumpkin Show. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

"The different things we'll do, will depend on the particular situation."

Kurfess, a former speaker of the House who is completing his 20th year in the legislature, noted that election losers often react by saying "the people have spoken."

"Sometimes," Kurfess said, "I wish we hadn't asked them."

Democratic victories in Ohio congressional races have not stilled talk of another effort in the state legislature to redistrict boundary lines to benefit Democratic candidates.

State Sen. Donald J. Pease, D-13 Oberlin, captured the 13th Congressional District seat in north central Ohio, left vacant by the retirement of GOP Rep. Charles Mosher. And Cincinnati attorney Thomas Luken ousted incumbent Rep. Donald D. Clancy, a Republican in the 2nd district.

That chipped the Republican edge from 15-8 to 13-10 in the Ohio congressional delegation.

But Democrats were bitterly disappointed by the narrow loss of Columbus city councilwoman Fran Ryan to Rep. Sam Devine, R-12. And former state legislator John McDonald got swamped by conservative Rep.

John M. Ashbrook, R-17, despite an ambitious campaign.

A redistricting effort would of course fuel partisan fires, but the veto-proof Democratic legislature could surmount a veto by Rhodes. There would probably be a degree of discontent however, even in Democratic ranks, since Democratic strength in some districts would be eroded somewhat to shore up other areas.

The districts in Cincinnati and Columbus could well become doughnut shaped in each city—an outlying suburban district that would be conceded to a Republican and a central city district for a Democrat, like Fran Ryan or Tom Luken.

Two northwest Ohio state senators have introduced a resolution recognizing this week as "National Liederkrantz Week." In a joint statement, Sens. M. Ben Gaeth, R-1 Defiance, and Paul E. Gillmor, R-2 Port Clinton, said: "The world's supply of this gastronomical treat is produced in Van Wert under the watchful eyes and expert control of Van Wert's master cheese makers. At full ripeness, Liederkrantz has delighted the world's palate and brought fame to this community."

Arsonists Subsidized By Homeowners?

CINCINNATI (AP) — Arsonists may have been subsidized to the tune of $1.883 million in 1975 by homeowners and business insurance premiums.

Ronald K. Melott of Boston, Mass., an arson expert with the National Fire Protection Association, said known incendiaries cost $633,900,000 in 1974.

He said another $1.2 billion in fires of unknown causes may have been largely arson, and proper fire investigations would have shown arson losses to have been much higher.

Melott said arson is big business and "torches (professional arsonists) are as easy to find as prostitutes."

Fire prevention, he said, is a victim of current economics.

Local governments are cutting back "behind the scenes" personnel while trying to maintain the firemen who actually put out the fires.

Businessmen, home owners and car owners are "torching" their buildings, stock and automobiles at an even increasing rate to cover losses or get out from under heavy financial burdens, he said.

Melott said there is little deterrent to arson "because of risk. Only one per cent of the arrests are ever convicted, and the insurance companies are finding the premiums are becoming prohibitive."

Melott said there was evidence in eastern cities that real estate groups have been buying buildings ostensibly for rehabilitation, but burning them and collecting insurance based on rehabilitated values.

Melott said car owners by the score are abandoning their cars and burning them while reporting them stolen.

George Keller, director of the Cincinnati Insurance Institute, agreed with Melott, but said new federal laws are giving the insurance companies a chance to fight back.

"Of course, it is easy to find someone to light a match for you. All you have to do is go to the right places and make it known," said Keller.

Keller said new federal laws passed three months ago now permit insurance companies to turn over evidence of suspected arson to prosecuting authorities.

"We were in an unenviable position before," said Keller. He said insurance companies who brought arson charges faced lawsuits if they failed to win convictions. The new law now protects them.

"Also, a new law in Ohio doubles the penalty," he said. Conviction for arson now could bring up to a $25,000 fine and 10 years in jail, he said.

Keller also said the insurance industry is now in the process of developing its own investigation system and hiring and training arson detection experts with an eye toward hard prosecution. "Our early figures indicate we save $5 for ever $1 spent for investigation," Keller said.

Keller also said that stopping arson would save home owners 20 per cent on their home insurance and 40 per cent on fire premiums.

ANTI-MONOPOLY GAME

The basic idea of the game is to end the monopolistic practices of the three company combinations on the board. This is also called trustbusting and the players are called trustbusters. The winning trustbuster is the player who has the highest score in terms of social credits and budget money at the end of the game. Social credits are earned in various ways for trustbusting and budget money is received and paid out in various ways during the game.

Class Action Lawsuit Hits Kroehler Co.

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — A $4 million class action lawsuit has been filed against the Kroehler Manufacturing Co. alleging breach of promise in the company's decision not to rebuild a factory destroyed in Xenia's 1974 tornado.

The suit, filed in Greene County Common Pleas Court, is a class action filed on behalf of employees who say they have failed to find other work, but turned down other job offers while Kroehler was promising to rebuild the plant.

The Xenia tornado struck in April 1974, destroying almost half the city, including the furniture factory. Officials of the company, headquartered at Naperville, Ill., said the factory would be rebuilt and employees would be put back to work.

The company also said it would be the first to construct facilities at the new Xenia Industrial Park, the suit alleged, and repeated those promises until August 1975.

However, on Aug. 16, 1975, the company said it would not rebuild. It cited economic reasons. Kroehler employees were offered jobs in other company factories around the country.

The former employees said they incurred debts and made investments based on Kroehler's promise, and now have suffered substantial losses because of the decision.

They also charge the company's promises were made "maliciously with knowledge they were false and with wanton disregard" for the welfare of the employees.

NCR Seeks Computer Sale To China

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Dayton-based NCR Corp. has been holding discussions with officials of the People's Republic of China about possible sale of sophisticated computers for use in that country's banking industry.

Any sales agreement is at least a year away, according to Edward Potter, NCR's Washington representative.

Potter said the computers would be used for strictly "commercial" purposes. If a sale is made, he said, the firm would monitor the use of the computers to insure they are not misused.

Potter said the Bank of China, the only bank in the vast country, has 30,000 branches.

"We think we could help modernize and mechanize these branches," he said. "It would be a very formidable piece of business if we could sell just one small terminal to (each of) the 30,000 branches."

Under the Export Administration Act, no sale may be made to a potential enemy of the United States unless it is determined that the equipment involved would not be used for hostile purposes.

Any sale by NCR to China thus would require the approval of the Departments of Commerce, Treasury, Defense and State.

U.S. Weather Turns Mostly Seasonable

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Except for the southern Plains and the upper Ohio Valley, the weather was seasonable or mild throughout the country this morning.

Readings dipped into the low 30s and 40s in Texas as rain and fog dogged the state from the extreme south to the Rio Grande Valley.

The weather was clear and cold over the upper Ohio Valley, where the mercury dropped into the 20s.

Elsewhere east of the Rockies it was near seasonal. The Pacific Northwest had readings in the 50s, as did California except for southern areas and the desert southwest where it was warmer.

Rain also fell along the Gulf Coast from southern Louisiana to northern Florida and south Georgia.

Travel advisories warned of widespread dense fog over northeast Florida which was expected to reduce visibilities to near zero until late in the morning.

Skies were cloudy from the southern Plains across the lower Mississippi Valley and the south Atlantic coast states.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 79 at Key West and Fort Lauderdale, Fla., to 13 at Alamosa, Colo.

Lord Snowden On Assignment

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Lord Snowden, estranged husband of Britain's Princess Margaret, says he's taking pictures in Malaysia for a book.

The 46-year-old globe-trotting photographer gave no details of the project except to say that he's doing it for an international firm.

"It has been strenuous and I have been working flat out. But I have enjoyed myself enormously because of the wonderful hospitality of the people," he said.

Snowdon leaves for an unknown destination today.

The first campaign buttons were given away by Alexander the Great, according to the National Geographic Society. They were made of silver and given as a promise of better government.

Federal Court Jury Hears Bomb Story

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A federal court jury was told Tuesday about the discovery last year of a bomb at Greater Buffalo International Airport in an unclaimed suitcase taken off an Allegheny Airlines flight from Columbus.

Donald S. Fellows, an Erie County, N.Y., sheriff's bomb technician, described how he dismantled the device after it was discovered in a small, green suitcase by a baggage clerk.

Fellows testified during the second day of the trial of Ernest Arthur Skidmore, 37, who is charged with conspiracy to place two bombs aboard Allegheny flight 456 on Nov. 4, 1975.

Fellows showed the jury how he and another man removed the contents in a field just outside of Erie County.

He said the suitcase contained a beer bottle which appeared to be filled with black powder and was wired to a clock and a battery. It also contained four beer bottles filled with what appeared to be gasoline and a taped, plastic cylinder filled with black powder and 19 rifle cartridges, he said.

A second suitcase shipped with the first was intentionally exploded by the bomb technicians, he said.

In opening statements Monday, Asst. U.S. Atty. Daniel Brown told the jury he would prove that Skidmore was involved in a scheme with his half brother, Hubert Patrick Irwin, 52, to collect $100,000 in insurance.

Brown said the evidence would prove that Irwin bought a flight insurance policy payable to Skidmore and bought a ticket for the Allegheny flight, but never boarded.

He said the prosecution would show that the bomb was to have exploded over Lake Erie, where it would be difficult to recover bodies and determine who was on the flight.

Irwin also is charged, but U.S. District Court Judge Robert M. Duncan has granted him a separate trial.

Defense attorney Paul Cassidy told the jury he will show that Irwin was returning to his home in Canada by way of Buffalo but decided not to go at the last minute. He said Skidmore brought Irwin to the Columbus airport because Skidmore wanted to look for work in Columbus.

The trial is expected to last about two weeks.

U.S. Milk Output Decreases Sharply

WASHINGTON (AP) — Milk production this year is expected to total about 119.8 billion pounds, up 3.7 per cent from 1975 for the sharpest year-to-year gain since 1953, an Agriculture Department dairy economist says.

But unlike some previous years of milk production increases, consumer demand for dairy products has also risen so that prices paid to farmers also have been up.

Charles N. Shaw of the department's Economic Research Service today warned, however, that, "market conditions have weakened and the potential for surplus" milk in 1977 is large.

Bomb Threat In Moscow Investigated

MOSCOW (AP) — About 1,000 Russians were evacuated from the U.S. Bicentennial exhibition in Moscow's Sokolniki Park today because of a bomb threat.

Officials said the Interior Ministry telephoned the Soviet administrator of the exhibit at 12:24 p.m. and told him an unidentified man telephoned that a plastic bomb would go off in the building at 12:30.

A search for the bomb started as those looking at the exhibition were cleared out of the hall. But none was found by the time the deadline passed, and there was no explosion.

The exhibit includes photographs, copies of historic American documents and films. It was an instant hit when it opened last week, and many Russians have been turned away because of overcrowding.

A half-mile-long line of about 8,000 persons lined up before the exhibit opened this morning. It has a daily capacity of about 9,000.

The U.S. Embassy in Moscow was evacuated twice last March after telephoned bomb threats, but no bombs were found. Those threats came after shots were fired into an official Soviet residence in New York City and the Soviet airline office there was bombed by Jewish extremists protesting the treatment of Jews in the Soviet Union. However, there has been nothing like that in the United States recently.

I would like to thank everyone who remembered me with cards, having received over 100. Also thanks to those who sent flowers, fruit baskets and all other gifts and for all the visits.

A special thanks to the Rev. and Mrs. Morrow and to the Rev. Currens for their many, many visits and prayers. NCR Seeks Computer Sale To China

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Dayton-based NCR Corp. has been holding discussions with officials of the People's Republic of China about possible sale of sophisticated computers for use in that country's banking industry.

Any sales agreement is at least a year away, according to Edward Potter, NCR's Washington representative.

Potter said the computers would be used for strictly "commercial" purposes. If a sale is made, he said, the firm would monitor the use of the computers to insure they are not misused.

Potter said the Bank of China, the only bank in the vast country, has 30,000 branches.

"We think we could help modernize and mechanize these branches," he said. "It would be a very formidable piece of business if we could sell just one small terminal to (each of) the 30,000 branches."

Under the Export Administration Act, no sale may be made to a potential enemy of the United States unless it is determined that the equipment involved would not be used for hostile purposes.

Any sale by NCR to China thus would require the approval of the Departments of Commerce, Treasury, Defense and State.

U.S. Weather Turns Mostly Seasonable

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Except for the southern Plains and the upper Ohio Valley, the weather was seasonable or mild throughout the country this morning.

Readings dipped into the low 30s and 40s in Texas as rain and fog dogged the state from the extreme south to the Rio Grande Valley.

The weather was clear and cold over the upper Ohio Valley, where the mercury dropped into the 20s.

Elsewhere east of the Rockies it was near seasonal. The Pacific Northwest had readings in the 50s, as did California except for southern areas and the desert southwest where it was warmer.

Rain also fell along the Gulf Coast from southern Louisiana to northern Florida and south Georgia.

Travel advisories warned of widespread dense fog over northeast Florida which was expected to reduce visibilities to near zero until late in the morning.

Skies were cloudy from the southern Plains across the lower Mississippi Valley and the south Atlantic coast states.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 79 at Key West and Fort Lauderdale, Fla., to 13 at Alamosa, Colo.

College Grid Forecaster Chooses Winners

NEW YORK (AP) — How important are the remaining games in the college football season?

"Well," says UCLA's Terry Donahue, "my wife served me Mylanta for breakfast and I think I'll have Gelusil for dinner."

Let us ring in a couple of guest selectors and hear how they pick the UCLA-Southern Cal Pac-8 Rose Bowl

Archie Griffin Seeks More Playing Time

CINCINNATI (AP) — Archie Griffin hasn't had a good day against National Football League defenses in a month of Sundays and the two-time Heisman Trophy winner is finding it frustrating.

Frankly, he feels the problem could be cured by more playing time.

"I think I could contribute more to the team if I carried the ball more. But I don't want to sound like I'm knocking the system — because I'm not," said Griffin Tuesday as the division-leading Cincinnati Bengals began concentrating on Sunday's game at Kansas City.

Griffin, after rushing for 78 and 75 yards against Green Bay and Cleveland in the first month of the season, has fallen upon hard times.

He has averaged less than six carries per game in the past five weeks and was held to minus yardage Sunday against the Houston Oilers in three attempts.

"Carrying the ball only three times...you really don't have a chance to redeem yourself," said Griffin.

Despite the dry spell, he remains a leading candidate for rookie of the year honors in the NFL's American Conference with 341 yards.

And his star hasn't slipped in the minds of the Bengal coaching staff.

"I'm sure Archie is disappointed," said backfield coach Jack Donaldson. "But Archie Griffin is not a selfish football player. I've found that out."

Donaldson has a hunch that the former Ohio State star is a step away from breaking loose.

"I told him today, 'Archie, it's going to come and it's going to come soon.' I'm not just whistling Dixie," said Donaldson.

Meanwhile, Griffin has been reminded that Otis Armstrong rode the bench as a rookie, then exploded for 1,407 yards as a sophomore. And that former Heisman winner John Cappelletti spent two seasons as an understudy before blossoming for the Los Angeles Rams.

"That makes me feel good," said Griffin, who set a major college record by rushing for more than 100 yards in 31 consecutive games.

Griffin, who passed up a more lucrative offer from a Canadian football team to remain in Ohio, said showdown.

Washington's Don James: "A tossup. I think if they played 10 times it would come out 5-5. They're that close."

Oregon State's Craig Fertig: "The team that wins will be decided by the quarterback who gets the hot hand. I think USC is bigger and stronger on defense but UCLA is faster. I think they are even on offense."

So for the Rose Bowl...Southern Cal 28-21.

Last week's score was 50 right — including Kentucky's upset of Florida — and 19 wrong for a .724 percentage. On the season, it is 481-196-11 — .710.

Michigan at Ohio State: "I always feel good going to Ohio State; we have never played badly against them," says Michigan's Bo Schembechler...Michigan 20-10.

Houston at Texas Tech: A funny thing happened to last year's Southwest Conference tri-champs. First Texas A&M foundered, then Texas, then Arkansas. And now unbeaten Texas Tech...Houston 31-24.

Iowa State at Oklahoma State: What are these two losers doing battling for a possible Orange Bowl berth? Playing good football, that's what. If Iowa State wins, they have got to hope Nebraska beats Oklahoma. The only way Oklahoma State can go — possibly — is for Kansas State to upset Colorado — unlikely — while Nebraska and Oklahoma battle to a tie. Got it? We got...Oklahoma State 34-24.

Colorado at Kansas State: Colorado is ranked 15th with a 7-3 record, including victories over Oklahoma, Oklahoma State and Iowa State. Kansas State has dropped nine in a row after beating Brigham Young in its opener. This has been such a crazy conference, let's try the Upset Special of the Week...Kansas State 24-20.

Miami, Fla. at Notre Dame: Miami's patsy schedule has sent the Hurricanes against the likes of Colorado, Nebraska, Pitt and Penn State, with "only" Notre Dame, Florida and Houston left...Notre Dame 28-14.

Kansas at Missouri: Missouri has beaten four of the top 15 teams in this week's ratings, but the Tigers are no better than sixth in the Big Eight...Missouri 27-17.

Colgate at Rutgers: The Scarlet Knights match their basketball team and complete a perfect regular season...Rutgers 35-6.

Kentucky at Tennessee: If Tennessee should somehow manage a bowl bid, it would automatically extend Bill Battle's contract by a year, and wouldn't that come as a blow to his unwarranted critics? Tennessee 24-14.

Texas at Baylor: How the mighty have fallen...Baylor 28-21.

Wyoming at Air Force: Now that the Cowpokes have clinched a berth in the Fiesta Bowl, why not a letdown? Second Upset Special...Air Force 24-21.

East — Holy Cross 24, Connecticut 14; Boston College 38, Massachusetts 6; Temple 23, Villanova 16; Syracuse 17, West Virginia 13.

South — Maryland 49, Virginia 0; The Citadel 30, Davidson 7; South Carolina 29, Clemson 19; Florida 45, Rice 35; Florida State 26, Virginia Tech 19; Furman 31, Wofford 14; Louisiana State 28, Tulane 7; Louisville 34, Boston University 17;

Defensive candidates included Jim Walser of Toledo, Rimas Kozica of Northern Illinois, Mark Hatgas of Miami, Jeff Wood of Kent State, Tom Averett of Eastern Michigan, Larry Hall of Central Michigan, Steve Seibert of Bowling Green and Mike Lecklider of Ball State.

Michigan State's Eric Allen holds the record for most rushing yards in one game, 350 against Purdue in 1971.

Pro Basketball Action Proves Hot, Heavy

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

Rick Barry has got to learn to concentrate at the free throw line.

"I had hoped to make 80 or 90 in a row, but I didn't concentrate — and then I missed," said Barry, who finally saw one of his underhand tosses from the free throw line roll off the rim Tuesday night—but not before he set a National Basketball Association record of 60 in a row.

Barry's miss late in the fourth period came after he made his first eight tries of the game and erased the NBA record of 58 set last season by Houston's Calvin Murphy.

In other NBA games, the New Orleans Jazz nipped the Portland Trail Blazers 100-98, the New York Knicks edged the Atlanta Hawks 100-97, the San Antonio Spurs shaded the Buffalo Braves 114-112 and the Kansas City Kings beat the Milwaukee Bucks 100-91.

Slick Watts led Seattle with 25 points. Fred Brown had 16 points for the Sonics, including 10 in the final quarter.

Barry broke Murphy's record with his seventh free throw of the game, then added another before finally missing. He did, however, make his final toss of the game, finishing 9-for-10 — and with a streak of one.

Jazz 100, Blazers 98

"This is the year for the game to be physical," observed New Orleans Coach Butch van Breda Kolff, whose Jazz nipped Portland in a game marred by 66 personal fouls — 33 against each team — and three technicals.

Physical is one thing, but the game got out of hand in the second period when Pete Maravich, New Orleans' high-scoring star, squared off against Portland's scrappy Dave Twardzik.

When the brawl ended, Maravich was hit with a technical foul but permitted to remain in the game, which did not sit well with Portland Coach Jack Ramsay.

The Jazz, leading 45-40 at the time of the fight, fell behind 54-51 at the half but rallied behind Maravich's 15 third-quarter points. Maravich also led all rebounders with 15.

Knicks 100, Hawks 97

Bill Bradley's jumper with 1:28 to play put the Knicks ahead, then they clinched it with six free throws in the final nine seconds—four by Earl Monroe and two by Walt Frazier. Atlanta's Tom Henderson scored 27 points, while Frazier led the Knicks with 26.

It was Atlanta's 26th consecutive loss on the road.

Spurs 114, Braves 112

Larry Kenon, who topped the Spurs with 25 points, sank two free throws with two seconds left to beat Buffalo and snap the Braves' five-game winning streak. Bob McAdoo topped Buffalo with 27 points.

Kings 100, Bucks 91

Ron Boone scored 27 points for Kansas City and Scott Wedman added 19, including three baskets early in the fourth quarter that broke open the game. Center Elmore Smith and rookie forward Alex English each scored 21 for the Bucks.

New Lexington Pilot Happy With Season

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Jim Rockwell is pleasantly surprised his state Class AA champion New Lexington football team finally has made the Ohio high school playoffs.

"It proves a point," said the man of 26 coaching campaigns at Ironton, Wellston and New Lexington, "that you can still be committed to a 10-team league and make the playoffs.

"In four years," he said, "we've gone 9-1, 10-0, 9-1 and 10-0 and only made it one time. You still have to be damn lucky and everything has to go right."

Rockwell believes the playoffs are a good thing, with some refinements.

"Instead of regionals, with some 65 teams," he said, "there should be two large leagues that would cut those figures in half. The winners of the two leagues would meet for the regional championships, state quarterfinals in effect," said the man who led the Perry County Panthers to the 1970 mythical state championship.

Harold Meyer, commissioner of the governing Ohio High School Athletic Association, says school principals voted down the idea of regional championships in a questionnaire about a year ago.

"We suggested the season be moved up to the Friday before Labor Day," said Meyer, retiring next summer as commissioner. "That would accommodate possible regional championships."

Meyer hinted such a playoff structure may become a reality for football, if for no other reason than finances.

"Just look at the natural rivalries, the matchups that we would have had this year," he said.

In Class AAA, the regional title games would have paired Lakewood St. Edward vs. Parma Valley Forge, Gahanna vs. Columbus Northland, Youngstown Mooney vs. Akron North and Cincinnati Moeller vs. Centerville.

In Class AA, the regional matches would send Elyria Catholic vs. Chagrin Falls or Akron St. Vincent-St. Mary, Huron vs. Columbus Watterson, New Lexington vs. Minerva and Brookville vs. Cincinnati Reading.

In Class A, it would have been Ashtabula St. John vs. Mogadore, Fostoria St. Wendelin vs. Tiffin Calvert, Newark Catholic vs. Wood-sfield and West Jefferson vs. Versailles.

Northwestern Ohio Football Stars

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dave Pierce, who lifted Mansfield Senior to a 7-3-0 record, has been named The Associated Press' Ohio Northwestern District Class AAA Coach of the Year.

Cliff Belmer of Mansfield Senior and Terry Bates, Fremont Ross' record-shattering runner, were selected the AAA Backs of the Year in all-star voting by an area panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Bates, a 175-pound senior, accounted for 1,628 yards rushing this season, breaking a 20-year-old school record of 1,598 held by Jim Tiller. Belmer, 6-foot-2 and 200 pounds, rushed for 1,165 yards in his senior season.

Steve Bertz, Napoleon's splendid-blocking 6-2, 200-pound senior tight end, was the AAA area Lineman of the Year.

The Scott boys, Jeff of Port Clinton and Kevin of Ontario, no relation, collected the Class AA Northwestern Player of the Year laurels, joining Tony Munafa of unbeaten, second-ranked Huron, the No. 1 area mentor in the middle division.

Jeff Scott, a 5-9, 170-pound junior safety and running back, accounted for 20 interceptions in the last two seasons and had 1,052 yards and 15 touchdowns this fall. Kevin Scott, a 6-4, 185 senior tight end, caught 32 of his team's 42 receptions this year for 735 yards.

In Class A, Dave Affholder of Fostoria St. Wendelin and Dave Myers of Carey shared the back honors, Bruce Fields of Bluffton was the leading lineman and Gene Peluso of St. Wendelin and Jim Stauffer of Bluffton split the coaching title.

Affholder, a 5-10, 180-pound senior, accounted for 1,158 yards rushing and passing, playing less than half a game against most opponents. He has 2,400 career yards rushing. Myers, a 5-10, 175-pound running back, was all-state last season and had 1,000 ground yards in 1975 and more than 4,000 in his career.

Peluso produced a 7-2-1 record and led St. Wendelin into the state semifinals. Stauffer, a used car salesman pressed into emergency coaching service, turned out an 8-2-0 mark in his first season at Bluffton.

Pro Basketball Action Proves Hot, Heavy

By ALEX SACHARE AP Sports Writer

Rick Barry has got to learn to concentrate at the free throw line.

"I had hoped to make 80 or 90 in a row, but I didn't concentrate — and then I missed," said Barry, who finally saw one of his underhand tosses from the free throw line roll off the rim Tuesday night—but not before he set a National Basketball Association record of 60 in a row.

Barry's miss late in the fourth period came after he made his first eight tries of the game and erased the NBA record of 58 set last season by Houston's Calvin Murphy.

In other NBA games, the New Orleans Jazz nipped the Portland Trail Blazers 100-98, the New York Knicks edged the Atlanta Hawks 100-97, the San Antonio Spurs shaded the Buffalo Braves 114-112 and the Kansas City Kings beat the Milwaukee Bucks 100-91.

Slick Watts led Seattle with 25 points. Fred Brown had 16 points for the Sonics, including 10 in the final quarter.

Barry broke Murphy's record with his seventh free throw of the game, then added another before finally missing. He did, however, make his final toss of the game, finishing 9-for-10 — and with a streak of one.

Jazz 100, Blazers 98

"This is the year for the game to be physical," observed New Orleans Coach Butch van Breda Kolff, whose Jazz nipped Portland in a game marred by 66 personal fouls — 33 against each team — and three techni-

Physical is one thing, but the game got out of hand in the second period when Pete Maravich, New Orleans' high-scoring star, squared off against Portland's scrappy Dave Twardzik.

When the brawl ended, Maravich was hit with a technical foul but permitted to remain in the game, which did not sit well with Portland Coach Jack Ramsay.

The Jazz, leading 45-40 at the time of the fight, fell behind 54-51 at the half but rallied behind Maravich's 15 third-quarter points. Maravich also led all rebounders with 15.

Knicks 100, Hawks 97

Bill Bradley's jumper with 1:28 to play put the Knicks ahead, then they clinched it with six free throws in the final nine seconds—four by Earl Monroe and two by Walt Frazier. Atlanta's Tom Henderson scored 27 points, while Frazier led the Knicks with 26.

It was Atlanta's 26th consecutive loss on the road.

Spurs 114, Braves 112

Larry Kenon, who topped the Spurs with 25 points, sank two free throws with two seconds left to beat Buffalo and snap the Braves' five-game winning streak. Bob McAdoo topped Buffalo with 27 points.

Kings 100, Bucks 91

Ron Boone scored 27 points for Kansas City and Scott Wedman added 19, including three baskets early in the fourth quarter that broke open the game. Center Elmore Smith and rookie forward Alex English each scored 21 for the Bucks.

New Lexington Pilot Happy With Season

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Jim Rockwell is pleasantly surprised his state Class AA champion New Lexington football team finally has made the Ohio high school playoffs.

"It proves a point," said the man of 26 coaching campaigns at Ironton, Wellston and New Lexington, "that you can still be committed to a 10-team league and make the playoffs.

"In four years," he said, "we've gone 9-1, 10-0, 9-1 and 10-0 and only made it one time. You still have to be damn lucky and everything has to go right."

Rockwell believes the playoffs are a good thing, with some refinements.

"Instead of regionals, with some 65 teams," he said, "there should be two large leagues that would cut those figures in half. The winners of the two leagues would meet for the regional championships, state quarterfinals in effect," said the man who led the Perry County Panthers to the 1970 mythical state championship.

Harold Meyer, commissioner of the governing Ohio High School Athletic Association, says school principals voted down the idea of regional championships in a questionnaire about a year ago.

"We suggested the season be moved up to the Friday before Labor Day," said Meyer, retiring next summer as commissioner. "That would accommodate possible regional championships."

Meyer hinted such a playoff structure may become a reality for football, if for no other reason than finances.

"Just look at the natural rivalries, the matchups that we would have had this year," he said.

In Class AAA, the regional title games would have paired Lakewood St. Edward vs. Parma Valley Forge, Gahanna vs. Columbus Northland, Youngstown Mooney vs. Akron North and Cincinnati Moeller vs. Centerville.

In Class AA, the regional matches would send Elyria Catholic vs. Chagrin Falls or Akron St. Vincent-St. Mary, Huron vs. Columbus Waterson, New Lexington vs. Minerva and Brookville vs. Cincinnati Reading.

In Class A, it would have been Ashtabula St. John vs. Mogadore, Fostoria St. Wendelin vs. Tiffin Calvert, Newark Catholic vs. Wood-sfield and West Jefferson vs. Versailles.

Thom Darden Makes Waves With Browns

BEREA, Ohio (AP) — Thom Darden missed football last year, but not half as much as the Cleveland Browns' defense missed him.

The 6-foot-2, 193-pound free safety came up with his sixth interception of the season in Sunday's 24-3 victory over the Philadelphia Eagles, and his teammates and coaches just breathe a bit easier when he trots out to his position every Sunday.

"Our foremost problem a year ago was Darden's absence," explains Cleveland defensive coordinator Dick Modzelewski. "We allowed 25 touch-down passes, and tried four or five free safeties in his place without success."

"Thom's more or less our captain in the secondary because he commands so much respect from his teammates," Modzelewski added.

Darden, an All-American at the University of Michigan and now in his fourth year as a pro, missed all of the 1975 season when he suffered a serious knee injury while fielding a punt in a preseason game.

"Last year was no fun for me or anybody else around here," Darden said, reflecting on watching the Browns falter to a 3-11 record. "Now we've got a chance at a playoff spot and I need four more (interceptions) to break the team record."

The club record of nine interceptions by Tommy James has stood since 1950, the Browns' first year in the National Football League.

Firemen To Hold Trap Shoot

The Circleville Fire Department will hold a trap and card shoot at the Elk's gun range behind Elsea's Sales Lot on U.S. Route 23 North this Sunday afternoon starting at 3 p.m.

Hams, turkeys, and merchandise will be offered as prizes. The shoot is open to the general public.

CABC Will Hold Meeting Tonight

The Circleville Athletic Booster Club will meet 8 p.m. tonight in the high school cafeteria.

Head football coach and athletic director Larry Cook will show films of the Hillsboro game while coaches Brent Bell and Jim Bailey will discuss their wrestling and cage teams respectively.

they are even on offense." So for the Rose Bowl...Southern Cal 28-21.

Last week's score was 50 right — including Kentucky's upset of Florida — and 19 wrong for a .724 percentage.

On the season, it is 481-196-11 — .710. Michigan at Ohio State: "I always feel good going to Ohio State; we have never played badly against them," says Michigan's Bo Schembechler...Michigan 20-10.

Houston at Texas Tech: A funny thing happened to last year's Southwest Conference tri-champs. First Texas A&M foundered, then Texas, then Arkansas. And now unbeaten Texas Tech...Houston 31-24.

Iowa State at Oklahoma State: What are these two losers doing battling for a possible Orange Bowl berth? Playing good football, that's what. If Iowa State wins, they have got to hope Nebraska beats Oklahoma. The only way Oklahoma State can go — possibly — is for Kansas State to upset Colorado — unlikely — while Nebraska and Oklahoma battle to a tie. Got it? We got...Oklahoma State 34-24.

Colorado at Kansas State: Colorado is ranked 15th with a 7-3 record, including victories over Oklahoma, Oklahoma State and Iowa State. Kansas State has dropped nine in a row after beating Brigham Young in its opener. This has been such a crazy conference, let's try the Upset Special of the Week...Kansas State 24-20.

Miami, Fla. at Notre Dame: Miami's patsy schedule has sent the Hurricanes against the likes of Colorado, Nebraska, Pitt and Penn State, with "only" Notre Dame, Florida and Houston left...Notre Dame 28-14.

Kansas at Missouri: Missouri has beaten four of the top 15 teams in this week's ratings, but the Tigers are no better than sixth in the Big Eight...Missouri 27-17.

Colgate at Rutgers: The Scarlet Knights match their basketball team and complete a perfect regular season...Rutgers 35-6.

Kentucky at Tennessee: If Tennessee should somehow manage a bowl bid, it would automatically extend Bill Battle's contract by a year, and wouldn't that come as a blow to his unwarranted critics? Tennessee 24-14.

Texas at Baylor: How the mighty have fallen...Baylor 28-21.

Wyoming at Air Force: Now that the Cowpokes have clinched a berth in the Fiesta Bowl, why not a letdown? Second Upset Special...Air Force 24-21.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR THURSDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): A new work assignment may seem difficult to carry out, but a comprehensive discussion with close associates will produce useful ideas, guidance.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Bonuses indicated from past efforts. These should give you new incentive, perhaps a wholly new approach in certain problematic areas. Long-range plans favored.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): A good period for branching out into new fields, if your regular activities allow you the time. Creative interests especially favored.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Stars presently warn against driving yourself too hard, with resultant strain and anxiety. Eliminate nonessentials from your program in order to pace yourself at an easier gait.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Keep emotions under stern control. You could make an impulsive - and unwise - decision if your temper is aroused.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Flexibility MUST be day's keynote. An unpredictable period in which you'll HAVE to shelve some of your pet plans and projects.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Day offers new incentive for forging ahead. You'll have at least one opportunity to cash in through the influence of an old business contact.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): A good day for business and financial matters. A mid-morning meeting could produce some especially useful information.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Note Libra. Your outlook similar. Someone of influence would pull some strings for you if approached in the early afternoon.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Even though your day may be crowded, don't overlook details through haste. Seemingly minor factors could be most important to the overall picture of a successful day.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Everyday matters will probably run their usual course, but evening brings a surprise invitation from some highly amusing companions.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Others often accuse you of being overly emotional, of "thinking with your heart," but your "feelings" about a certain situation will be right on target.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with an extremely outgoing personality and great enthusiasm for life; are resourceful, courageous; quick-witted and unusually capable in emergencies. Your gift of leadership is so strong that you rebel inwardly - sometimes outwardly, too - when circumstances force you to take orders. An excellent organizer, you could succeed as head of any large business or financial corporation. Try to overcome streaks of temperament and overaggressiveness, however, as you could make enemies needlessly. In the arts, you prefer music and literature; would make an outstanding literary or dramatic critic. Birthdate of: Alan B. Views On Tiger

LOS ANGELES (AP) — NBC tonight is airing "The Disappearance of Aimee," a dramatization of the controversial disappearance and return in 1926 of Aimee Semple McPherson, the flamboyant evangelist.

It stars two fine actresses, Faye Dunaway as Aimee and Bette Davis as her mother, Minnie Kennedy. This should make for a rousing show, no? No. The program is akin to a long sermon on a hot Sunday.

For those too young to recall the case, Sister Aimee contended she was kidnapped while swimming at Ocean Beach Park, Calif., and held for claims for more than a month in the early summer of 1926.

Los Angeles authorities contended she was off having an illegal fling with Fred Ormiston, a young radio engineer who used to work for her, and had lied in an attempt to cover it all up.

Tonight's dramatization of both contentions — each argued in a preliminary court hearing where authorities tried to bring her to trial — revolves around that hearing, with flashbacks used to depict the claims of each side.

The show starts with Aimee at her temple here shortly after her return. She speaks of her coming court appearance with her mother in dramatic terms, calling it another sign of "the age-old fight between the children of light and the people of darkness."

Her words are so extravagantly ripe, her mother's reaction to them so apparently skeptical, you may think this is a sardonic, tongue-in-cheek yarn about how the devil in the form of the district attorney tried to stop the Lord's work among the multitudes.

Wrong. It turns into an earnest, plodding recapitulation, both in testimony and ensuing flashbacks, of her claims of innocence and efforts of the D.A. (James Sloan) to show she is fibbing.

One scene, in which Aimee explains from a hospital bed in Arizona how she was kidnapped, tortured and escaped, runs so long many citizens in tonight's audience may be hospitalized of acute boredom.

In the finale, engineer Ormiston (William Jordan) makes a dramatic courtroom appearance on behalf of Sister Aimee. If you can read the fine print that comes with the closing credits, you may notice the print says his testimony actually came in an affidavit to the D.A., rather than in court.

Okay, a faint cheer for fine-print honesty. No cheer for the show. It avoids a conclusion about Aimee's guilt or innocence, which is no real sin. But it makes a potentially lively story about a lively lady preacher come out dull. And that, brethren, is a sin.

Volunteers For Youth Meets

The Board of Trustees of the Pickaway County Volunteers for Youth met Tuesday afternoon at the YMCA with Diane Berger presiding.

President Berger reported on the continuing education courses she and Ramona Edman, the volunteer coordinator, are taking at Ohio State University which is a certificate program in Volunteer Administration.

Ms. Edman reported on the current status of volunteers and on the last in-service training when the volunteers met with the Juvenile Court probation officers.

The Junior Womens Club had expressed a desire to work with status offenders. They were advised to either become volunteers to work on a one-to-one basis with those who are on probation or to consider working with those troubled youth who would be classified as "pre-delinquent" by the Pickaway County schools.

The annual dinner meeting was set for December 7 at R&N Steele's. All board members, volunteers, Juvenile Court officials and their spouses are invited to attend.

Barbara Harrison, Tom Fitzgerald, and Tom Tootle will serve on the nominating committee.

Others attending the meeting were Dieter Droste, Tom Downing, Tom Fitzgerald and Tom Tootle.

Loan Scandal Case Winds Up

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state has concluded a legal struggle to recover $9 million from former state officials involved in the six-year-old Statehouse loan scandal.

"That's the ball game," said Asst. Atty. Gen. Stephen C. Fitch after completing oral arguments in the civil case before the Ohio Supreme Court. The seven-member high court will now mult over state and defense arguments before handing down a decision.

Two lower courts have ruled that former State Treasurer John Herbert, his deputy Robert Gardner, and their bonding companies are not personally liable in the matter.

The state is arguing that Herbert exceeded a $50 million limit on investment in commercial notes in 1970 and is therefore personally liable for an $8 million loan to a company that filed for bankruptcy in 1971.

Gardner made the transaction with King Resources, a Denver, Colo., oil drilling firm which owed $1 million in interest on the loan when it folded.

Two other cases are still pending in which the state is attempting to cover its losses, Fitch said.

Bankruptcy proceedings to reorganize King could benefit the state, he said, and the company's former officers, accountants and attorneys are being sued by Ohio in federal court in Denver.

The scandal, with its wideranging political implications, was credited with seriously damaging Republican fortunes in Ohio and sweeping a number of Democrats into state office, including former Gov. John J. Gilligan. Herbert, a Republican, lost a 1970 election for attorney general to Atty. Gen. William J. Brown, who was 31 at the time.

Herbert's lawyer, Paul Tague, argued in court that the treasurer's office went over the $50 million investment limit for only four weeks in 1970. The loan was not certified as delinquent until 1972, he said, 20 months after Herbert left office.

"Any loss that may have occurred thereafter should not be laid at the doorstep," Tague contended.

Chief Justice C. William O'Neill, however, noted that "the law was clear" when Herbert's office bought the King notes.

Justice Thomas M. Herbert (no relation) questioned John Herbert's personal responsibility since the treasurer was not aware that the limit on investments was exceeded when his assistant, Gardner, bought the notes.

In another development, state Board of Deposit is expected to close out another facet of the case at a meeting next month. The board plans action to erase, technically at least, a nonexistent $2.7 million balance in the state treasury stemming from loan dealings with the Four Seasons Nursing Homes.

Four Seasons, which is no longer in existence, also filed for bankruptcy after receiving a loan from the state in 1970. The nursing home loan is not part of the civil suit against Herbert.

Death Car Instant Coffin

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — "You couldn't have lived in that 10 seconds," said police officer Earl Whirls.

The Ross Township patrolman was describing the fiery automobile crash that claimed the lives of four Indiana persons Monday night.

Three men and an 18-year-old woman died when their car slammed into a utility pole, exploding in flames on impact. One person escaped the burning car with minor injuries.

The victims were identified by Butler County authorities as Billie Joe Hall, 26, Hanover; Robert W. Davidson, 21, and William Ray Davidson, 18, both of Crowtherville; and Jeannie Short, 18, Hanover.

James Connelly, 38, of Cincinnati told police the accident occurred when the Indiana car crossed the center line, struck his car and rammed into the pole.

Secret Primary Elections Pushed

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A bill to provide a confidential primary election vote for Hoosiers who do not want their party affiliation known was filed in the House during Tuesday's organizing session.

Former Speaker Richard C. Bodine, D-Mishawaka, was primary author, and the bill had bipartisan co-sponsors.

Bodine said the main purpose of the system, which could be used whether paper ballots or voting machines were used, is to "generate more interest in voting. He said fewer and fewer people are participating in the political process.

Under present law, a voter in the primary must declare his party and then gets a paper ballot for that party or a voting machine is set to only the line or lines for that party.

Lawmakers completed formalities Tuesday and adjourned until Jan. 5.

LIBRARY SPEAKER — Mr. Paul Shover, past president of the Association for Children with Learning Disabilities, spoke at the Pickaway County District Public Library Tuesday morning. He spoke to the parents of children with learning disabilities, and his talk concerned the early recognition of children with learning disabilities. The library also noted that the Circleville Junior Women's Club donated money for the purchase of library books concerning children with learning disabilities.

Death Car Instant Coffin

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — "You couldn't have lived in that 10 seconds," said police officer Earl Whirls.

The Ross Township patrolman was describing the fiery automobile crash that claimed the lives of four Indiana persons Monday night.

Three men and an 18-year-old woman died when their car slammed into a utility pole, exploding in flames on impact. One person escaped the burning car with minor injuries.

The victims were identified by Butler County authorities as Billie Joe Hall, 26, Hanover; Robert W. Davidson, 21, and William Ray Davidson, 18, both of Crowtherville; and Jeannie Short, 18, Hanover.

James Connelly, 38, of Cincinnati told police the accident occurred when the Indiana car crossed the center line, struck his car and rammed into the pole.

Secret Primary Elections Pushed

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A bill to provide a confidential primary election vote for Hoosiers who do not want their party affiliation known was filed in the House during Tuesday's organizing session.

Former Speaker Richard C. Bodine, D-Mishawaka, was primary author, and the bill had bipartisan co-sponsors.

Bodine said the main purpose of the system, which could be used whether paper ballots or voting machines were used, is to "generate more interest in voting. He said fewer and fewer people are participating in the political process.

Under present law, a voter in the primary must declare his party and then gets a paper ballot for that party or a voting machine is set to only the line or lines for that party.

Lawmakers completed formalities Tuesday and adjourned until Jan. 5.

LIBRARY SPEAKER — Mr. Paul Shover, past president of the Association for Children with Learning Disabilities, spoke at the Pickaway County District Public Library Tuesday morning. He spoke to the parents of children with learning disabilities, and his talk concerned the early recognition of children with learning disabilities. The library also noted that the Circleville Junior Women's Club donated money for the purchase of library books concerning children with learning disabilities.
